PRO DEO ET PRO PATRIA

To our beloved pastor,
Father Foran, in humble appreciation of his unflinching interest and enthusiasm in our school, especially in the present senior class, and in return for his splendid spiritual counsel, we, the Class of 1943, dedicate this book, our final achievement as students of St. Mary's.

FOREWORD

We, the members of the Class of '43 are walking through the portals of our beloved St. Mary's into a world at war, bent on the destruction and chaotic ruin of democracy and its followers. As we take leave of our beloved Alma Mater, we have anguished tears in our hearts, realizing that we have left our carefree days behind us and are entering the world as men and women. No longer can we spend happy, peaceful, laughter-filled days in a schoolroom under the guidance of our beloved Sisters of St. Joseph. As long as we shall live, the memories of our High School days will remain imprinted in our hearts. Success, failure, happiness, or sorrow, no matter what our lot may be, nothing can or will erase these memories from hearts that want to remember. Time and tide travel on unmindful of common lives, dragging along with it the Class of '43 into a world at war. Therefore, in order that we may have a Memoriam of these days, we are putting our best efforts into this book, efforts that we will be proud of in future years, and that we may look upon this crowning achievement of our last year at St. Mary's with a smile on our lips and in our hearts. Judge not this book too harshly and remember, as you examine it, that no matter how light, trivial, or non-essential its contents may be, that they are the little things that made our days happy. As time wends its way onward, we hope and pray that we will always go through life under the powerful protection of our beloved patroness and Queen of Heaven, and that her Blue Mantle will keep us close to her always.

TRIBUTE TO FATHER FORAN

In the course of the past year, our intimate association with Father Foran has not only been a distinct pleasure but a profound privilege. This year has witnessed, as a result of his constant efforts, the imprinting in our minds of a greater realization of all that is good in this life and worthy of glory in the next. That such an effect has taken place is only natural in view of this beloved priest's indelible instruction and efficacious example.

With Father Curran's assignment to another parish in July of last year, the duties as pastor of our parish were assumed by the Reverend William J. Foran. That feeling of skepticism which generally accompanies a new pastor was not long disappearing; for Father Foran's immediate plans were for the renovation of the lower church which, once begun, served to assure the parishioners that their pastor was not only a deeply religious priest but likewise one of God's most ardent servants. For his every effort to beautify the House of God, we and the people of the parish wish to express our gratitude.

However, we in school, and especially the members of the Senior Class, have received much more for which to thank him. Aside from the Church, Father Foran's every interest centered about the school, the students, their education and especially about the spiritual and general welfare of the pupils. Seldom did a week pass that Father did not make at least one visit to the school. His love of education and learning together with his naturally pious disposition inspired him to fill our hearts with an inclination to lead more worthy lives by conforming to the rules of character.

In concluding our days here at St. Mary's, we wish to express to you, Father Foran, our most sincere and deepest appreciation of all of your untiring efforts in our behalf. We pray that the thought of the poet will be more than ever true in your case, for --

"None goes his way alone;
All that we send into the lives of others
Comes back into our own."

CHAMPIONS FOR CHRIST

St. Stephen's Parish, Framingham-Pastor Rev. James F. McCaffery
Father McCaffery is one of the prime factors in the propagation of Catholic Education. His counsel has succeeded in bringing many students from Framingham to St. Mary's.

St. Joseph's Parish, Medway-Pastor Rev. Timothy C. Gleason
Father Gleason expresses his approval of St. Mary's and what it represents by urging as many of his youthful parishioners as possible to come here to school.

St. Patrick's Parish, Whitinsville-Pastor Rev. John J. Foran
This beloved priest, a nephew of our own dear Father Foran, is another diligent worker for Catholic Education. We know his influence has prompted many to undertake the long trip to Milford every day in order that they may enjoy the advantages of a religious education.

Good Shepherd Parish, Linwood-Pastor Rev. Alvin N. Gagnon
A devoted priest, Father Gagnon has in his short time as pastor helped to further the cause of Catholic Education by sending some excellent students to St. Mary's. We hope that the number will be increased as the years go by.

St. Thomas' Parish, Millis-Pastor Rev. Frederick J. Mulry
St. Mary's Parish, Holliston-Pastor Rev. Cornelius J. Donavan
St. John's Parish, Hopkinton-Pastor Rev. Frederick J. Deasy
To these men of God our class will ever be grateful for their staunch help and interest in everything pertaining to our school.

A friend in need
Is a friend indeed
And well we know
That this is so.
For far and near
And cherished dear
Are priestly friends.
And who pretends
To be ungrateful,
At least we're faithful
And 'ere we depart,
Thanks from our heart
And for you a prayer
To Our Lady fair.

St. Mary's Anthem

Hail O St. Mary's Hail! Hail to thee --
Our loyal hearts will faithful and true e'er be.
Our love for you will remain all life thru,
Hail, dear St. Mary's, Hail, Hail to you.
With deep affection and fond recollection
Now our hearts we pledge thee
And with our praise a sweet song do we raise
Hail dear St. Mary's! Hail to you!

St. Mary's School Song

Now our pennant waving here, we nobly stand
Dear St. Mary's, we your true and valiant band
To thy standard we will cling
Pride and glory to thee bring
Alma Mater dear to thee
Let us forever be -
To thy standard we will cling
Pride and glory to thee bring
Alma Mater dear to thee
Let us forever be -
Sing out the cheer, loud and clear
Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!
St. Mary's, St. Mary's - Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!
Alma Mater, praise to thee
May our prayer forever be
From hearts true and filled with love
Look on her, O God above!

CHAPEL

As one of his first acts upon assuming the pastorate of St. Mary's Parish, Father Foran instigated the complete renovation of the lower Church. No expense was spared in the endeavor to make the chapel one of the most artistic in the diocese.

A delicately carved wood liturgical altar adorned with six carved wood candlesticks, stands beneath a richly decorated dossal. The Blessed Sacrament is housed in a magnificent circular liturgical tabernacle whose beauty is revealed in the external carving in the gold.

A terrazzo floor has been laid in the sanctuary and body of the Chapel, bordered by walls, covered with marbled terrazzo wainscoating. The floor of the chapel entrance and vestibule is of marble of the finest grade. Plush Oriental rugs in the sanctuary, together with the alabaster sanctuary lamp, fluorescent lighting fixtures, and mahogany-cased organ, lend a sense of finished splendor to the main section of the chapel.

The woodwork, pews, and newly constructed confessionals in the rear of the church, are coated with a light natural finish, displaying the grain in all its natural beauty. An excellently carved altar rail is likewise finished in this manner.

Two statues, one of the Sacred Heart and one of St. Francis Xavier, and a handsome oak crucifix embellish the sanctuary. In the rear of the chapel a niche encloses a realistic statue of Our Lady of Love, garbed in the traditional blue and white. The features of the statue are somewhat remarkable in that they seem to portray all the innocence and loveliness possessed by Our Lady. The Stations likewise attract much attention in that they are of a polychromic composition with the figures outlined in statuesque relief.

A simple white color scheme serves as the crowning effect to the grandeur of the chapel. The chapel itself stands as a glowing tribute to the diligence of Father Foran and the capability of architect, Mr. Wendell Phillips. Proud are we of our new chapel and our only recently renovated upper church, and ever shall we laud its fine points.

Altar Fund

When one enters a church, his gaze first centers upon the altar, one of the prime necessities in the celebration of Mass. The effect which the altar produces generally determines the true beauty of the church in as much as it is the most prominent fixture in the sanctuary, the principle part of the auditorium. Furthermore, the presence of Our Lord upon the altar deserves nothing but the most beautiful. For these reasons, Father Foran collaborated with Architect Mr. Phillips to obtain the best altar possible to fit the means of the parish. That this end was accomplished is proven in view of the excellent qualities of the new altar, placed in the sanctuary of the new Chapel. Intricately carved, the altar is of the finest grained wood, made to a standard liturgical pattern, and finished in a light natural color.

That this altar bore some expense is likewise apparent in its beauty. Upon the children of St. Mary's, Fr. Foran bestowed the privilege of donating this altar. His offer was immediately accepted and a vigorous campaign was begun to raise the necessary funds. The drive began in the middle of January with contributions being received daily from members of the respective classrooms. The amount requested from each student was one dollar, but many graciously took it upon themselves to give five and six dollars. Quotas were established for each room and, all in all, totaled five hundred dollars.

Both the High school and the Grammar school surged ahead but, strange as it may seem, the classes of the Grammar school have taken the lead. The seventh grade under the persistence of Sister Coletta led all the classes in contributions, followed in a close second place by Sister St. Edward's invincible first grade.

The success of the campaign may be seen in its fruit, for at this writing the fund is within a shadow of the goal set, a permanent tribute to the generosity of the students of St. Mary's.

Courtesy is that element of life which not only makes life bearable to those who practice it, but adds something to the pleasure, or even the happiness of those with whom they come in contact. Courtesy has the inestimable value of setting the members of any group at their ease. In fact courtesy can be said to be the expression of an ease that comes from breeding and supreme self-confidence.

The essence of courtesy may be simmered down to three words--consideration for others. Newman in his "Idea of a University" says--"A gentleman is one who never hurts another." A courteous and refined young man or woman is indeed an asset to any gathering, public or private. "Thank you" and "Please" may seem trivial and unimportant but what a wealth of gratitude they bear and what joy they bring to their recipient. Let us not be niggardly with our expressions of gratitude. Shakespeare says--

"Blow, blow thou winter wind
Thou art not yet so unkind
As man's ingratitude."

Culture. Is it the veneer of civilization? No. It is more than that. Culture is a real, deep love of beauty, however it may be expressed. It is the quick recognition of that beauty, wherever it may be found,--beautiful music, an exquisite painting, a well-turned phrase, the beauties of nature, the clear-eyed beauty of a little child. Genuine culture is the result of training mind, heart and soul. This, a religious training insures, because it is based on character. The Ten Commandments are the best of morale builders--the keeping of which, furnishes the foundation of a true Christian culture. Courtesy too, is a part of that elusive quality, which we call culture.

But without character, courtesy is hypocrisy, and culture an empty veneer which serves to make ugly instead of to beautify. The strong characters are the leaders. They are virile, courageous, finely-tempered. They are magnets which draw and attract the inferior types, making them as one. Character connotes a morale-builder. Hence, we need men of character, men of fortitude, as leaders, as morale builders, particularly for our youth in the service.

For a fruitful life, let us never forget our three C's--Courtesy, Culture, and Character; they are our keys to success. With them, will St. Mary's graduates, carve their careers for the future, like the sculptor with his chisel, making of life a "thing of beauty", and therefore "a joy forever."

"Buster" is the boy with the big heart. His greatest joy is in giving and serving for others. He has been a willing worker on The Blue Mantle and has shown great ability as a salesman in soliciting advertisements and sponsors. The Class of '43 sends you forth with all good wishes, Buster.

Best wishes to a swell kid

Jean Frances Birmingham
Course: Nurses Prep.

"Jean of all trades" and shall we say, "Master of all!" She is a singer, debater, conversationalist and charming hostess. These outstanding qualifications have made Jean an indispensable member of our class. Her fine and loyal school spirit evidenced on the many committees on which she served and her charming personality all speak volumes for her. May the future come through for you, Jean, as you have always come through for S. M. A.

Best wishes to a swell kid always Remember Jean '43'

Rita Marie Barlow
Course: Commercial

Rita is bubbling over with enthusiasm. She delights in all school activities and ardently supports every S.M.A. project. Her literary ability has been demonstrated by the good work she has done on the "Bulletin" for the servicemen published by the Commercial students for the boys and girls of S. M. A. who are in active service. Rita has a keen sense of humour which is much appreciated by the members of the class. Our good wishes, go with you, Rita, for success and happiness.

Rita Barlow

Theresa Jane Bouthiette
Course: Commercial

Whenever Theresa is in a class we can all be sure she will never be the cause of a disturbance, for she is very quiet in the classroom. Outside of the classroom she enters into the fun and excitement. We pledge our loyalty while we wish you happiness.

Best wishes to a swell kid

Gloria Edith Bedard
Course: Nurses' Prep.

Gloria is that friendly and charming miss from North Uxbridge. She has won for herself a host of friends at SMA among both the boys and girls. Her ability as an artist was brought to our attention by the lovely poster for the altar fund and our activities which she cleverly did. She was a wonderful dancer but did not appear for many of our social affairs. We are confident that she will be happy and successful in her life to come.

Good luck to a swell kid

Muriel Marie Brock
Course: College Prep.

Muriel has been with us for two years. During that time we have enjoyed her charming personality and friendly manner. Her artistic ability was shown by the lovely decorations in the classroom and school. Energetic and efficient Muriel has carved a niche in our hearts that none but she can fill. To this pleasant girl who is the possessor of a cheery disposition and keen sense of humor, we wish the zenith of success.

Lots of love and happy wishes to Muriel

Rita Lucienne Benoit
Course: Commercial

"Number please" introduces this attractive part time telephone operator. Rita has acquired some business poise because of her experience at the switchboard. Her happy disposition has endeared her to all at St. Mary's and to a large circle of friends in Upton for Rita hails from the suburbs. When you leave good old S. M. A., Rita, you take with you our best wishes and leave after you only happy memories.

Best wishes to Rita

Yarko
Course: Commercial

"Yarko" has an easygoing kindly manner. He is always courteous and considerate in his attitude toward his teachers and his fellow students. He is very fastidious in matters pertaining to style and man-ages to display the latest in fashion. You have helped to make our high school days convivial and we hope that your efforts to bring happiness to others will bring you joy.

How could we ever get along without Jenny? It would be impossible to do so, for we would lack a very essential thing to every class and that is, of someone to be able to smile even through the toughest spots. Jenny has made our class a happy one and we are very grateful for her contribution. Her blond hair has been the envy of every girl in the class and her happy-go-lucky way has been admired by all. Keep on smiling Jenny and we feel sure that you will never have a thing to worry about.

Best of Luck

Course: Commercial

"Frannie," as we all know, is a gentleman in every sense of the word. "He makes light of favors while he does them and seems to be receiving when he is conferring." Whatever is needed to be done, Frannie is always there to offer assistance. Quiet in voice and action, he is a loyal and sincere friend. May the memory of happy days spent at Saint Mary's remain with you always.

Jennie Mary Cecere
Course: Commercial

Jennie needs no introduction for she is known and loved by all. A sweeter and more lovable personality could not be found. She is a friend to all and enemy to none. She is always on hand to liven up the darkest day with her good cheer and ready wit. We shall always remember you, Jennie, with a smile in our hearts.

Her suave personality and good looks are two of Ellie's outstanding points. We have enjoyed having her with us so much that it is impossible to express our feeling fully. Ellie is very dependable and when she has a job to do we all can rely on her to do it thoroughly. Ellie's valuable assistance in every social function has made her one of the most popular girls of the Senior Class. We have no doubt in our mind that you will be the greatest success in every line of work.

Patricia Dale Connors
Courses: Nurses' Prep.

A friendly, sociable creature is little Pat. She is always ready to do anyone a good turn and never speaks ill of anyone. She is happy and carefree and beloved by all. We confidently hope for great things for you, Pat, and know you deserve the best!

Course: Nurses' Prep.

Although Eileen's demure charm, personality and intelligence do not appear too frequently, due to her excessive modesty, we of '43, fully realize their existence. Eileen is a true friend and a dependable worker. Whenever there was a task which required promptness and accuracy, it fell to her capable hands to do. In parting with you, Eileen, we feel that we shall hear more about you when you take your place in your chosen profession.

Mary Monica Creighton
Course: Nurses' Prep.

Mary, one of the petite girls of the Class has made many friends at S. M. A. She has been with us all through our high school days and we have enjoyed every minute of her companionship. Her carefree but determined manner will take her a long way in the life to come. We feel sure that you will attain happiness and great success in the future, Mary.

Malania Ann Dapkiewicz
Course: Commercial

Malania's quiet and industrious ways have won her recognition throughout her years at S.N.A. We have had her with us for five years but in that span of years we have all grown fond of her. We will always miss Malania's friendly words that she extends to everyone. With the sincerest wishes that you will accomplish all the things that you wish to attain in life, remember, always aim high. Good luck.

Rose Ann DiAntonio
Course: College Prep.

Rosie has been a source of joy to all with her sunshiny disposition and her cheery ways. No dark clouds can stand the atmosphere when Rosie is around. We shall never forget Rosie's twinkling fingers making sweet music on her accordion. Rosie did her part as a cheer leader too and helped to bring courage to our athletes. We wish for our Rosie the joy of bringing joy to others in this weary world where real smiles are rare.

Coemo Francis Delano
Course: Commercial

The outstanding artist of the class has brought much credit and honor to the Commercial Division. "Del" has a great habit of arguing every point that is debatable. "Even tho' vanquished he could argue still." We admire this trait for it shows how far he will go in this complicated world. With his originality and persistence, he will climb the ladder of success. Good luck in the future.

Rose Marie DiAntonio
Course: Commercial

"Good things come in small packages." If this saying has an ounce of truth in it, it certainly applies directly to Rosie. She is distinguished in the classroom by her quiet gentle ways but when she is released from the intellectual atmosphere, she is a whirlwind of fun. She is exceedingly popular, both with the students and the faculty for Rosie has a cute little smile and a sweet disposition. We hope that the future contains happiness for you, Rosie.

Irene Leona Demanche
Course: Commercial

Spic and span always! That describes our blue eyed blond. She is small, but capable of great things. In her are combined the carefree happy girl and the earnest student. Her neat and accurate papers are a source of joy to her teachers, while her bookkeeping books are the envy of the class. She must be a business woman for she is already a budding one. We hope that life holds for you just what we wish for you - success and happiness.

Helene Terisita Dugan
Course: Commercial

"A friend in need is a friend indeed," may well be said of Helene. Ever looking on the bright side and never too much weighed down by the burdens of life, she has gladdened our days with cheery smiles and a helping hand. Cheerio, Helene, and may you always keep the banner of your high ideals flying high.

Armand John Demarais
Course: Technical

Armand is Helen Moyrhan's rival in solving difficult problems in mathematics. But his serious look belie his natural humor. He is ever the earnest student. He very seldom took part in our social functions and we missed him. He was the outstanding pupil of his typing class which consists of four in number. He took an active part in the stencil work for the year book. Happy days, Armand.

Isabel Ann Dunleavy
Course: Nurses' Prep.

Isabel has always seemed rather shy in appearance but appearances are often deceiving. We who have spent four and more happy years with her, know her real nature to be a friendly one. Possessor of a keen sense of humor, she was always ready to join in any fun. Her pleasant disposition will go a long way to bring her happiness and success in her future career as a "Woman in White."

Course: Commercial

"Allie" is the pride of Upton. When we make this statement, we feel sure that we are justified in making it, as he has shown himself worthy of it. His Allie is generous and witty-assets which make him a popular member of the class. Allie is fond of scattering humorous remarks in passing and leaves a trail of laughter after him. May your friends increase with the years, Allie, is our wish for you.

Robert Joseph Fortier
Course: College Prep

"He's a versatile fellow" taken from "Music at the Cross-roads" applies to Bob perfectly. Never an occasion which he could not equal. He distinguished himself as a debater, an actor, a singer. He often acted as Master of Ceremonies with ease and grace. He is a dancer of renown. Added to all these lighter accomplishments, Bob is a diligent student. We hope that success will attend your efforts.

Course: Nurses' Prep.

With a benignant smile and a friendly word, Louise has won her way into the hearts of all. A sweet singing voice and a dignified appearance gave Louise a rather mature and womanly look. She was never very far away from her bosom friend, Lucille; where you saw one, the other was sure to be near. She was an ardent supporter of all socials, especially the dances and we are sure she will enjoy her future career as much as she did her school days.

Mery June Malloy
Course: Commercial

June is "petite" but mighty. Although she is not a debater, she generally wins her point. June likes fun and a good time but always manages to get her school work done creditably. Her laughter and gaiety are infectious and she is always in the center of an admiring group. We wish the fulfillment of your heart's desires, June, and we know you are capable of getting whatever you set out to get.

*Go on swell

James Timothy McGrath
Course: General

Beneath Jimmy's sleepy exterior is a friendly nature and a vibrant sense of humor which needs no provocation to awaken it. Ever cheerful and ever ready to lend a hand where it is most needed. He has a host of friends among his classmates. We leave him confident that the future which awaits him will be worthy of an agreeable fellow student and a true friend.

*Best wishes
"Jim"*

Bernadette Mary Melanson
Course: Commercial

Bernadette is quiet and retiring by nature. No one has ever heard her speak an unkind word about another. She has the happy faculty of steering away from all trouble. Bernadette is very generous and considerate in her attitude toward all. The Class of '43 is grateful for your charitable presence and we wish you joy throughout your life.

Love Theresa

Theresa Marguerite Moroney
Course: Commercial

Her jolly disposition has obtained for her many friends during her years at S. M. A. Her motto is, "Laugh - and be merry." She upholds her motto wherever she is. The efficient way in which she does her school work cannot escape notice. Theresa has all the characteristics necessary for a successful career. May our hopes for you be realized in the future, Theresa, and may you never lose the happy disposition that has brightened our school days.

Louise Marie Miller
Course: Commercial

Lou is a small loquacious person who has talked her way all through life and is still talking. She has a keen sense of wit and enjoys humor immensely even when at her own expense. She has some of that very rare "Initiative" about which we hear so much and possess so little. She knows where everything is and somehow she always manages to shoulder the various small responsibilities which her efficiency has won for her. May your path through life be bright with the presence of friends, Lou, and may success attend your many efforts.

Good Luck Louise

Margaret Elizabeth Mountain
Course: Nurses' Prep.

Margaret, a pleasant maid from Whitinsville, became a member of our class in her Junior year. She greets us all with a warm smile and cheery word, refusing to see the dark side of things. She is kind and thoughtful and has much ability as a student. The Class of '43 wishes you "God-speed."

Best Wishes Margaret

Michael Angelo Minichiello
Course: Technical

Small in stature but great in deeds is "Mikie". Whenever a request for aid came from any quarter, Mike was always ready to answer it. He will long be remembered for his sense of humor and his carefree way as well as for the ready support he has lent to all social activities. Whenever we had a dance it was Mikie who ran the recording machine, and he never failed to support the minstrel show. Best of luck to you always, Mike.

Best Wishes Mike

Helen Anne Moynihan
Course: College Prep.

Helen is one of the most popular girls in our class. Her ready wit and friendly manner have made her a favorite with all. Her efficiency and her resourcefulness have been manifested in the service she has rendered on the numerous committees on which she has served. The picture section of The Blue Mantle owes its attractiveness to her efforts. Although Helen has ability in all subjects, she excels all in Mathematics. Lastly Helen was a member of the cheering squad. Best wishes of '43 to you, Helen.

Best Wishes Helen

Best Wishes Eulalia

Clarence George Morin
Course: Commercial

"Moe's" outstanding ability to do a job thoroughly and earnestly has made him an asset to the class of '43. He believes in the saying, "Hard work has never killed anyone" and he is a living example of the truth of these words. Besides holding a high rank in school, Moe is a photographer. The pictures in The Blue Mantle were taken by Moe and his father in the Morin Studio. We wish you success in all your endeavors.

Best Wishes, Clarence

Eulalia Madeline Murphy
Course: Commercial

"Lail" deserves the distinction of being the sweetest member of our class. Her never failing smile, her enviable disposition, her quiet courtesy are just a few of her personal assets which make her so appealing. Our Pastor says her name, "Eulalia", is Greek in origin but underneath auburn curling hair, Irish eyes are smiling, brightening our days and scattering sunshine. Lail, with a smile and a tear we part hoping that the future will contain for you all that your brightest dreams envision.

Madeline Margaret Murphy
Course: Nurses' Prep.

Madeline won us with her many charms, her pleasing ways and her amiable spirit. Although she lives in the neighboring town of Uxbridge, she always found some way to come to our social functions. With readiness to assist her classmates, and with a cheery word for all, Madeline has carved a niche in our hearts. Cheerio, Madeline!

*Thanks

Dorothy Eloise Page
Course: Commercial

"Dot" commutes from Upton and carries back to her home town substantial proofs of her success in her studies. She is always ready with a good word for everyone. A pleasing personality, a winning smile, and unobtrusive helpfulness describe Dot's characteristics. The prayers and good wishes of the class will follow you wherever you go, Dot, and we know that you are going places.

William Francis Murphy
Course: College Prep.

Bill has been our class president for two years. The word versatile sums up his many and varied accomplishments. If it is a social gathering, Bill is right there to do the honors; if the occasion requires sweet music, again he is on deck and with his violin produces never to be forgotten melodies. When an impromptu speech is needed, Bill's debating experience is called into play and he never lacks the right words. To us Bill's most important activity is The Blue Mantle. Chosen to be co-editor, he has put into the work his usual talent and energy making it a publication of which we are justly proud.

*With ever

Best of luck
Lucille*

Beatrice Marie Perry
Course: Commercial

"B" is one of the few quiet members of the class, a shy little girl and apparently fond of retirement. However, she enjoys fun and given time, she radiates happiness and good feeling among her companions. She is a conscientious worker and loyal supporter of class and school activities.

*Best of luck
Beatrice*

Lucille Mary Newcombe
Course: College Prep.

Lucille, one of the most versatile members of our class, is a shining light both in social functions and in scholastic accomplishments. She is always ready with a kind word and a friendly gesture. Lucille will ever be remembered by '43 as a loyal and active supporter of all school affairs. Many an athlete has she cheered to victory and now we give a rousing cheer for her and wish sincerely the fulfilment of her hopes.

*Best of luck
Dick*

Richard Lawrence Phillips
Course: General

"Strike three!" This is the common cry, when Dickie is on the Diamond. Through his exceptional pitching ability, he has brought many a victory to S. M. A. Last summer, Dickie played with the Red Sox thus making the first rung on the ladder of success in his career as a professional player. We wish this All-American boy the glory of the Diamond and we look forward to a share of that glory for our Alma Mater.

Ruth Edna O'Brien
Course: College Prep.

Pleasant, peppy, and playful, Ruth stands out in our minds as a true friend, always ready to uphold her native town. She can truly be called a loyal daughter of Framingham. Carefree and bubbling with fun "Ruthie" has cut a corner in our hearts. Her merry chatter has echoed in the rooms of S.M.A. and will long re-echo in our hearts. Good luck, Ruthie.

*To a swell
lots of luck & love*

Constant Lucien Plante
Course: College Prep.

Out of Linwood came its pride and joy, Constant, with a smile that presaged success as a student at S.M.A. "Connie" has not failed us, for earnest attitude and pleasant manner have prophesied success in his chosen career. The class of '43 will never forget Constant, because like Caesar of old "he came, he saw, he conquered."

*Best of luck
Connie*

Cecelia Gertrude Powers
Course: Commercial

An attractive smile and "Ce", the terms are synonymous. Its brightness has won armies of admirers. Her voice is ever soft and gentle as becomes a gentlewoman. Ceil has some business ability to back up that smile, as is evidenced by her attractive work on the Servicemen's Bulletin. We hope and pray that the future will never dim the light of your smile.

Always "Ceil"

Norma Frances St. George
Course: Commercial

"Non" has a sparkling personality and a keen wit, both of which contribute to her popularity. She has been a prominent leader in all school activities. As a cheer leader, she has given sideline support to many a team. But first and foremost, Non is a student and a business woman in the making. May you always remain as loyal to your high principles as you have been to your Alma Mater.

*An Ever

Joseph Aloysius Pratt
Course: Commercial

A brief paragraph is hardly sufficient to describe this pleasing Irishman. He is a man of few words but of big deeds. Besides carrying the burden of a farm while three of his brothers serve Uncle Sam, Joe manages to keep up with his school work. Early rising is an old story, and Joe has a day's work done before most of us get up. We take off our hats to Joe, the man with the hoe.

Veronica Agnes Sullivan
Course: Commercial

Veronica has kept up the Sullivan tradition in a creditable manner. She is held in high esteem by the class because of her fine traits of character. Sweet voiced and gentle but filled with animation and enthusiasm, we expect great things for you, Veronica, and the more that comes your way the more we shall rejoice for and with you.

*Best of all

Irene Ann Rykoski
Course: College Prep.

Gifted with poise and self-possession, Irene has charmed her way into the hearts of all of us with her willingness to be of service and the grace with which she does it. She has given us many a good chuckle with her humorous selections and entertained us with her twinkling fingers. She has always been eager to help in any way. Your gracious and charming manner is your key to success and '43 is confident that when the future unlocks its treasures, you will not be forgotten.

*Wishes

Raymond Francis Thomas
Course: College Prep.

Quiet in appearance, Ray is just the opposite in nature for he is the possessor of a keen sense of humor. Always the perfect gentleman Ray is a favorite among his friends. He was always willing to lend a hand or helpful suggestion in anything the class undertook. Remember how surprised we were in Oratoricals, when he did a wonderful piece of orating? The best wishes of his classmates will always be with this friendly lad from Hopedale wherever he goes.

William Joseph Seaver
Course: Commercial

When it comes to answering questions in history we can always depend on "Bill" to do his part. Of course his knowledge is not only limited to history but in every other subject we find the same occurrence. He has made many friends in the past and is certain to make many more in the future. We'll never forget how helpful you were on the Year Book and with the other senior activities. This spirit will produce all the success we wish for you.

*Best

Richard James Tierney
Course: General

Jolly and carefree "Dick" is a man-about-town. Ever friendly and good-natured he believed that a little fun should be mixed with work. Dick's merry laugh and happy spirit has given us many entertaining moments with his vocal renditions and flying fingers. As you leave St. Mary's the best wishes of your classmates go with you, Dick.

*Best of Luck
Dick*

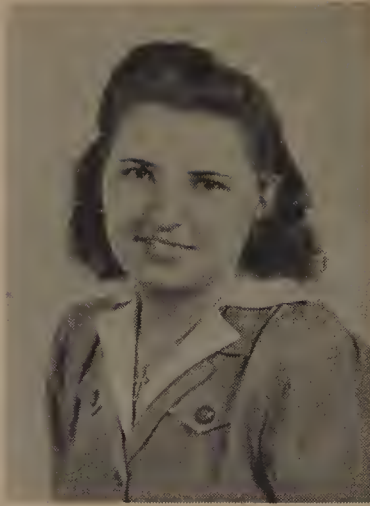

Louis Anthony Tumolo
Course: College Prep.

Louis has added mirth and joy to our school days. Friendly and carefree, he has won a big share of popularity among all the students. He has always been ready and willing to give his time and energy to promote all school activities. He is a comedian and has added zest and humour to our class plays. The good wishes of '43 go with you, Louis.

Bernice Marie Wojnowski
Course: Commercial

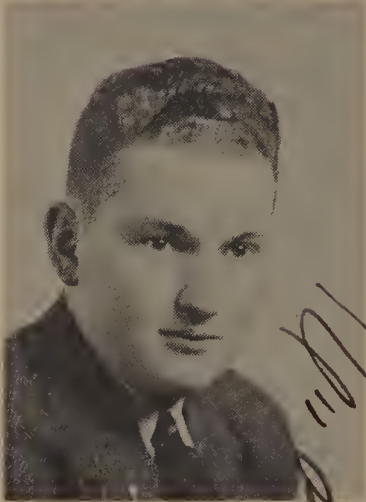

Bernice is first of all a real student, not a solemn, serious student but a happy hearted student who can put the books aside for fun and pick them up again with renewed energy. Her sincerity and her spirit of co-operation are outstanding and well evidenced in the amount of time she has put in on our Blue Mantl. Making it, in our opinion, the best Yearbook put out by St. Mary's. If hard and conscientious work means success, Bernice, you must win for you have all that it takes.

Best of Luck Bernice

Joseph Francis Von Flatern
Course: Commercial

Let us present the one and only inimitable Red. Friendly and jovial in manner, he possesses the friendship of everyone in the entire school. Since Red entered high school, he has majored in many sports including baseball and basketball. He has red hair with a wave that could not be bought at any price. However, he has escaped the fiery temper generally accompanying a carrot top. We wish for you, Red, the best in life.

"Red" Von Flatern
Good Luck "Marie"

Class Poem

THE CLASS OF FORTY-THREE

Once we were lowly Freshman,
Starting our years of High
Little we knew of learning
But at least the most of us tried.

Then we were known as Sophomores,
Grown-ups we thought we were,
'Til trials came that o'erwhelmed us
And our minds became a blur.

Wonderful girls and handsome boys,
Latin, Science and Math,
This we found in our Junior year,
Strewn along our path.

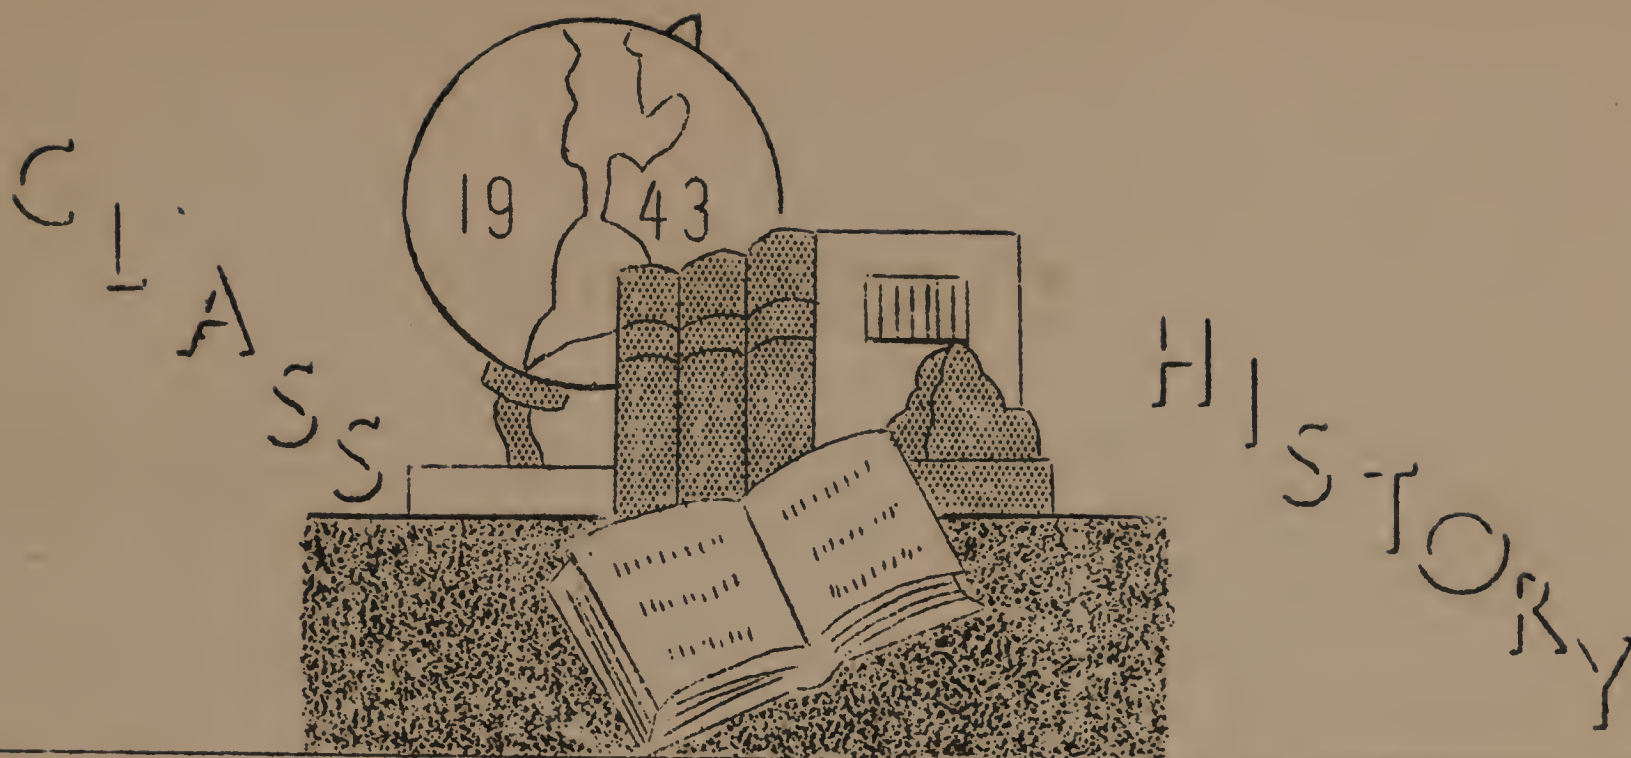

Nineteen hundred-forty-three,
Sad, gay and proud,
Seniors valiant, we tried to be
Our praises we've shouted aloud.

These four years we've all enjoyed,
But all good things must end,
And though our thoughts are somewhat sad,
Towards June eighteenth they bend.

Since parting time is almost here,
And each must say farowell,
Teachers and pupils, both must part,
In our hearts fond mem'ries dwell.

If sometime in the years to come,
We'll feel perhaps, forlorn,
Let's remember those lov'd High School days
"Esto Vir" and carry on.

Muriel Brock

The Graduating Class of '43, as you know, needs little or no introduction, for they are known far and wide because of their accomplishments during their High School career. Of course, since the Blue Mantle may pass through the hands of indifferent strangers, we want to have the necessary proof to uphold the truth of this statement.

On a warm September day in the year 1939, after attending Mass, a group of merry-eyed, expectant youngsters trouped up the stairs and passed the portals of St. Mary's Academy. During our first year we settled ourselves firmly in the traditions of the School and immediately started to heighten the glory of our Alma Mater.

The second year rolled around and brought with it exceptional chances for the Sophomores. First of all we had representatives in the school orchestra, namely: William Murphy and Albert Luby. In the Diocesan Debating Team, Henry Kaczowka, William Murphy, Robert Fortier, Jean Birmingham, and Irene Rykoski were the fighting members of our class.

Not to be outdone by the Juniors and Seniors, the Sophomores presented many evening Debates that surpassed those arranged by the other Classes. It was during these debates that the saying: "Heroes are made not born" proved to be accurate.

In the Athletic Field, the Class of '43 was exceptionally gifted with Aces that could hold their own against any team and have been ranked among the best. "Red" Von Flatern distinguished himself in both basketball and baseball as did Richard Phillips whose alertness helped insure victory for our team. "Brother" Collins deserves exceptional praise for his marvelous footwork on the Basketball Court.

CLASS HISTORY

Another Class disappeared and in its place the Class of '43 entered its Junior Year. The Diocesan Debaters of that year were: William Murphy, Robert Fortier, and Jean Birmingham.

Finally, the time for elections arrived and the officers chosen were:

President: William Bird
Vice-president: Rose Marie DiAntonio
Secretary: William Seaver
Treasurer: Lucille Newcombe

The Junior Class of that year held its Prom and it proved to be a very worthy enterprise. The great night started with a bang and as the night progressed the happy laughs of those attending was proof enough that the night would remain long in the memory of all.

The Junior-Senior Reception sponsored by the Juniors proved their ability to show the sad Seniors a good time. A Reception as successful as that of the Juniors can never be staged by the future classes. The dinner went off with precision and laughs were provided by the wits of the Class. Dancing followed and this was the highlight of the evening.

The night of Graduation arrived. The exercises outranked any that ever occurred in the town of Milford. Of course, the Juniors were participants of that memorable night and gladly helped to insure its success.

Finally the Class of '43 entered the building as Seniors, as happy a group as ever. It was during this year that they showed their ability to make a success of every undertaking.

The exceptional debating ability of William Murphy, Jean Birmingham, and Robert Fortier helped to win for us the permanent possession of the Diocesan Debating Cup. The team went in with only one intention and they certainly succeeded. The members of this team will be held in high esteem by the illustrious Class of '43 with sincere appreciation for their unceasing devotion to their ideal.

CLASS HISTORY

The Servicemen's Bulletin? Well, for the past year the Senior Commercial Class of '43 began issuing a bulletin for the boys in the Service who, at any time, attended S.M.A. The bulletin contained news received by the Class, and, in this way, enabled the boys and girls to know the whereabouts of their friends. Letters poured in from all corners of the earth expressing the heart-felt thanks and appreciation of the boys and girls. This act alone has endeared the Class of '43 to the Alumni of S. M. A.

The Senior Classical was indeed outstanding with their Play, "Music at the Crossroads" which was held in the Auditorium. The quaint characters and their unusual costumes extracted many a laugh from the audience.

As may be noticed all the important events took place during our Senior Year. It was during this year that the renowned Rubinoff and his violin visited our school. As he brought forth his exotic music the audience was spell-bound and at the end of each song, the pupils clamored for more. With reluctance, we bade "adieu" to Rubinoff as he took leave of our Alma Mater and promised that he would some day return.

The Senior Commercial Class held a Candy Sale which proved to be the best yet, surpassing those of previous years. This annual project displayed the initiative and the executive ability of '43.

The Senior Oratoricals were awaited with anxiety by the Seniors. When they finally took place they proved that they were worth waiting for. The contestants put up an exceedingly delightful performance. Those who excelled and were chosen for the finals were:

Jean Birmingham
Elmira Chapdelaine
Cosmo Delano
Robert Fortier
June Malloy
Barbara McClure
Clarence Morin
William Murphy

Lucille Newcombe
Richard Phillips
Cecilia Powers
Irene Rykoski
William Seavor
Norma St. George
Raymond Thomas
Bernice Wojnowski

CLASS HISTORY

Life Bread sponsored a Radio Program to encourage high school students develop any talent they might possess in broadcasting. The Glee Club of St. Mary's entered the contest and were given time on the air on three different occasions. On two occasions they rendered musical selections and won a first and second prize. The third audition was a choral selection. While it reflected credit on the school, it did not bring a prize.

The Minstrel Show has always been a hi-lite at St. Mary's and the performance given in May 18, 1943 was no exception. The cast was made up of students from all classes in the high school, the Class of '43 having representatives among the entertainers. This musical event went over big both as an artistic and as a financial success.

We leave an enviable record behind us and we trust that future classes persuing our history will be inspired to aim high in an endeavor to reach the standard of accomplishment set by our illustrious Class of '43.

Rose Marie DiAntonio

CATHOLIC ACTION

Having for its object the promotion of Catholic Action, the Class of 1943 successfully undertook the distribution of Our Sunday Visitor to the boys and girls from St. Mary's who are in the active service of our country.

Every boy and girl in the High School subscribes to this worthwhile publication and after reading it and using an article for weekly composition, sends one copy to a serviceman whose name and address has been assigned. In this way Our Sunday Visitor does double duty.

Many of the boys in the ranks have sent letters of appreciation for this weekly visitor which keeps them posted on the questions of the day while recalling those never-to-be-forgotten weekly compositions.

Bernice Wojnowski

Hello, Ladies and Gentlemen, this is "Flash" Fortier your favorite newshound bringing you the latest from station FUN. To-night through the courtesy of Rigermarole Dog Medicine, I bring you the latest news. I shall depart from our usual procedure for it is just twenty-five years today that the Class of '43 left the portals of S. M. A. and, therefore, I have decided to present to you a summary of what has happened since we left our Alma Mater.

Have you heard that last week Ray Thomas, New York millionaire playboy, was struck by a Martin cab owned by Joe Martin, as he was escorting debutantes Lorraine Leheney and Irene Rykoski, to the Club Moonbeam, operated by Al Luby? Ray was taken to the Barlow Hospital which was erected from the funds left by Rita Barlow, former coffee heiress.

Luck is with Dick Tierney and his all girl band, for the band with its feature artists, Rose Ann DiAntonio, Elmira Chapdelaine, and June Malloy have been booked at the Eleventh Street Swing House operated by Henry Kaczowka.

The Chicago Cubs, owned by the only woman in the National League, Margaret Gadbois, with Theresa Bouthiette as talent scout, are in the thick of the pennant fight. Yesterday Pitcher Dick Phillips contributed a three hit shut out and third baseman Red Von Flatern, came through with three hits.

Norma St. George and her "Georgia Girls" have replaced the "Powers Girls", and are hitting the front page of every Fashion Magazine in the country. Ruthie O'Brien's magazine "The Spotter" has selected Eileen Hilferty, Marguerite Howland, and Dot Kellett as the most outstanding models.

The G and G Cafe, G for Gritte and G for Gallagher, is suing Editor Joe Gormley for listing their establishment as "undesirable." Lawyer Joe Pratt was fined for contempt of court during the case when he made an unnecessary remark at Judge Francis Coffey.

CLASS PROPHECY

Lucille Newcombe and Jean Birmingham who both lost their husbands recently, have advertised for a quiet home in the Adirondacks where they can mourn in peace. Is it possible that they discovered Cosmo Delano and James McGrath, dashing movie stars are recuperating from splinters received while chopping wood?

Louie Tumolo made the headlines again this week. First, he built an indoor swimming pool in the lobby of his Hotel, the El Ritzia, next he had Chef Michael Minichiello serve dinner at 7 A.M. breakfast at 6 P.M. and supper at 12 P.M. in order that Dr. John Burke might discover the reactions of the human stomach. By the way, Irene DeManche and Malania Dapkiewicz had to be hospitalized on account of this experiment. Now he has announced that head waitress Mary Creighton, who inherited a million dollars, will build a Zoo just over the Mexican border for homeless animals.

A news flash has just arrived that Lieutenant Colonel Martin Lynch, Bill Collins and Connie Plante have been promoted to the rank of full fledged Colonels, for their daring feats inside the city of Berlin. As you know, the allied army hoped to end this twenty-eight year old war sometime this month. It was also announced by the War Department today that the Tennessee, United States Battleship, piloted by Captain Al Gritte of the United States Navy, sunk two Japanese destroyers. Also in the action, Flight Lieutenant Armand Desmaris was credited with downing six Zeros. To complete the good news, a hospital ship with Pat Connors as chief nurse, picked up thirty survivors. Rose Marie DiAntonio, who replaced Perc Westmore as dress designer for Warner Bros. Studios was given a party for this accomplishment by Miss Louise Van Knowlton, exclusive party giver.

Bill Murphy, who joined the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, three years ago, now has had the pleasure to be informed by Rita Benoit, head of the Music Makers Organization, that he is to appear as a feature artist on the "Priority Coffee Hour" in which comedian Robert Fitzpatrick is featured.

Last week, State Trooper, Bill Seaver stopped a car driven by Muriel Brock for speeding. With Muriel was Gloria Bedard. Upon investigating, Bill discovered that the girls were on their way to the docks to see their soldier friends depart. Bill personally gave them a motorcycle escort, siren and all.

CLASS PROPHECY

Surprise! Surprise! The New York Stage Door Canteen has announced that actresses "Dutchy" Moynihan and "Babs" McClure will appear in person next week.

To the surprise of all of us, millionaire George Arsenault great lover of learning is going to build a library and have Eileen Chard, Ruth Landry and Alice Hayes as Chief Librarians.

Soon Ellis Island will employ Bernice Wojnowski, Jennie Cecere, Elizabeth Fino and Bernadette Melanson as interpreters. May their days be bright and merry!

Dot Manion who broke all records at State University in Chemistry fifteen years ago, has asked for a companion to accompany her on a Geological Expedition. Theresa Moroney has accepted. Good luck girls!

Murphy and Murphy's Beauty Salon operated by Madeline and Eulalia Murphy has adopted a new kind of wave. The solution they use consists of sea water, lemon juice, arsenic and one hundred per cent alcohol. That solution should tie the hair in knots and make it do jigs.

Congratulations are in order for Clarence Morin who yesterday rescued Helen Dugan and Louise Miller from drowning in the East River.

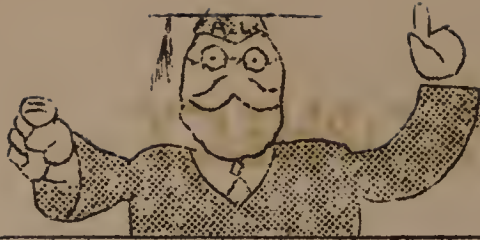

Veronica Sullivan, who for years has been a great opera singer, will introduce a new song on this station next week, words by Genevieve Casey and music by Margaret Mountain. May it turn out a triangular success!

Cecilia Powers and Audrey FitzPatrick who have been Sisters of St. Joseph, were both given the honor of being Superiors of different High Schools.

For the last flash of the evening, Dot Page and Beatrice Perry have just set up a new record. Each has served 921,743 cups of coffee since they joined the Canteen Corps two weeks ago. I wonder who counted them.

Well, that's all for today. But before I close, let me say that if your dog is blue, fails to play, has bags under his eyes and wags his tail from left to right instead of right to left, give him Rigermarole Dog Medicine, it will either cure or kill him. Mr. Ally FitzPatrick who trains thousands of dogs says: "Rigermarole has cured the dogs when they had indigestion and myself when I had the measles."

CASE
CLASS OF 1943

CLASS WILL

Louise "Snow Baby" Arsenault - Acting in behalf of the rationing board, the Class of '43 leaves to "Snow Baby" seven ration stamps good for seven men to provide a week's entertainment for this popular Junior.

Robert "Cradle Robber" Donovan - We are told that "Cradle Robber" has had some trouble with his car radio. So we leave him a new aerial so that the next time the car conveniently runs out of gas, he can have sweet music to charm his shattered nerves.

Jean "Bean Pole" McCormick - The Class of '43 bequeaths to "Bean Pole" the second fiddle part to the "Chicken Reel" so that the next time she tries to captivate a certain Senior with that nickname, she'll have more success in displaying "the charm that soothes the savage beast."

Helen "High Kicker" Kittredge - To "High Kicker", we leave Brother Collins' spare pair of Army shoes so that the next time she gets a case of St. Vitus Dance at one of Morganthau's parties, she will have less difficulty with her feet.

William "Wild Bill" Albin - We leave to "Hitchcock" a worm to place on the top of his camera to entice some pretty bird to alight there and provide a subject for the proverbial "Look at the Birdie."

Robert "Muscles" "Toot-on-the-Tooter" Sullivan - The Class of '43 wills to "Muscles" a certificate good for one bottle of Herman's Pink Pills for Pale People. One pill solves all your problems.

Frances "Skyscraper" Bruce - Receives as a legacy one paint brush so that the next time Rene starts to paint the old red barn she can have a valid excuse for visiting the thriving metropolis of Upton.

Helen "Scooper Dooper" Charge - To "Scooper Dooper" we leave an ice pick to assist in scooping the frozen can-milk at McCann's.

Jean "Hoarder" Madden - To "Hoarder" who has been pirating much of the available manpower, three in number, we are bequeathing a notice which we received from the War Labor Board stating that you must curtail your operations or else!

CLASS WILL

Marguerite "Buster" Miller - It has come to our attention that there is some controversy between a certain carrot-topped Freshman and one Snuffy Smith. Hence to "Buster" we leave a jug of corn-squeezins to build up Snuffy's physique and resistance so that the next time both he and "Red" darken her doorstep simultaneously, she can have a ringside seat at a battle royal.

Joseph "Mayor of Millis" Clancy - We leave to "Mayor" a Master's degree in femininity for running the gamut of social affairs around town. He has certainly passed his exams. Congratulations, Mayor, on you a cap and gown will look cute.

Arlene Fenner, Jean DesBarres and Barbara Summers; Joe McKearnan, Francis Nugent and David Moroney. To the sextet we leave a horse, a buggy, a spare wheel and a bale of hay. The inspectors can't stop you from picking up your respective dates.

Francis "Bum Crosby" McNamara - To "Bum Crosby", we leave two ramrods which will enable him to rid himself of the "bends" while he portrays the idol of the screen and radio.

Assumpta "Hep-Cat" Norcia - We leave to "Hep-Cat" a black wig, not for herself but for the next time she arranges a rendezvous with a certain Senior resembling the "Torch" she may be able to maintain a little bit more secrecy.

Catherine "Where do you work a John?" Bliss - We leave you a 20X25 rug so that like the typical housekeeper, you will have a convenient place to deposit the excess dust gathered in the office and its immediate surroundings.

Margaret "Speed-Demon" Bowen - We bequeath one of the best of the Army's jeeps. This will enable her not only to drop Joe McKearnan off at his front door but to continue to give a certain Francis Mahoney in his blue convertible a run for his money and show him who wears the gas coupons in that team.

Mary "Dry-Dock" Kennedy - To "Dry-Dock" we leave a handsomely carved machine so that during the summer she can do her part in helping pa-pa "keep 'em sailing."

Mary "Come-Sit-On-My-Knee" Sullivan - We leave to you a window box in which she may plant her Victory Garden and leave it to grow on top of the boss' desk in the next Commercial play.

Frances "Gee-I-Like-McCann's" Flaherty - To you, we leave a priority on a bicycle built for two so that as Junior Niro makes his rounds on McCann's ice cream truck she can catch up with him and pilot the culprit home.

CLASS WILL

Florence "Gabriel" Mahoney - It seems as though "Gabriel" was engaged to play first trumpet in the undeveloped St. Mary's band. To Florence we leave a bottle of axle grease to take some of the creaks and squeaks from her favorite instrument.

Carmella "Morale Builder" Dalio - To you we leave a one-way ticket to Virginia. It seems as though she can't decide between a soldier and a sailor so we have settled her problem and allowed her to choose the most handsome Marine as a sort of bodyguard.

Leona "Step and Catch It" Mann - To "Step and Catch It" we leave an umbrella and an outboard motor. Due to war conditions this was the closest we could get to an airplane but the next time she begins to descend the Woolworth stairs, she can take off at the top and glide safely to the bottom. This will dispel Mr. Genest's fears and save the ah! future payment ah! of acc

Claire "No parlez-vous" Dion - To Claire we leave a copy of that great French novel "Remi." This will enable her to build up a better international relationship with a certain French boy from Linwood.

Catherine "Voice of Summerfield's" Clement - We leave to you Katy a shillelagh so that you can once more drive that wandering Irish minstrel Terry O'Toole by name, into the net of Captivity.

William "Where's my Boots?" Kirly - In view of the shortage of farm implements, we leave to "Bootsey" a knife, a fork and a spoon with which he may spade his garden. In our extreme generosity, we leave a salt and pepper shaker to use as fertilizer for his back yard.

Patricia "Semper Paratus" Chard - To "Semper" we leave a package of garlic to dispel any sour taste resulting from over anxious Coast Guardsmen.

Dora "Soda-jerk" Porzio - To Dora we leave an untranslated version of Homer's Illiad so that the next time Mrs. Samaris gets herself up in a lather, Dora can soothe her with sweet verse from old Athens.

Henry "Quiz-Kid" Fitzpatrick - To "Quiz-Kid" we leave a Bachelor's degree. It is hard to understand how one of the three smartest boys in the Junior Commercial could retire as a hermit and leave all the Commercial girls to an Old Maid's fate.

Robert "Wheel-me-around-again-Willie" Howland - To Bobbie we leave one of the scarcities of the war, a highly durable and nicely decorated flat tire plus a prayer for your welfare. You need it in trusting yourself to your murderous bearers.

CLASS WILL

Marie "Pitch Woo" Kilburn - To "Pitcher" we leave a permit to run her future parties. Its greatest use will be to dismiss Bernie Hickey the next time he comes up with the paddy wagon to run in the disturbers of the peace.

Richard "Your feet's too big" Gallagher - To Chief Big Feet we leave a pair of whistles, unfortunately he was cheated when he purchased them for it has been the custom to distribute whistles with all the gunboats recently built.

Jeanette "Pull-In-Your-Arm" Smith - To Jeanette we leave a neatly crocheted harness. It seems as though while tripping the light fantastic with our prominent third negative speaker last February at the Copely Plaza she had some difficulty in understanding his order "to pull in your arm." She thought he had reference to another part of her anatomy. To discontinue any such further mistakes and to prevent Miss Smith from making this grave error in the presence of Mr. Carey we leave this specially constructed harness.

Margaret "Black Magic" Rossetti - We leave you rags and string so that you may change your hair style to "a la Pickaninny."

Rosarie "Heart-throb" Edwards - To Rosy we leave an old pair of shoes to trade in for a new pair to ease her expeditions to Hixon's to visit her newest flame.

Dorothy "Candy-Kid" Cahill - To "Candy" we leave a camera so that she can snap all the pictures of the various salesmen who prance into the cafeteria. After they are developed, we leave her permission to display them as pin-up boys.

Theresa "Water-Boy" Carey - To "Water-Boy" we leave a sparkling, refreshing glass of water so that the next time she gets thirsty, she won't have to go to the trouble of knocking over a fire hydrant to get a drink.

Mary "Ring Around Whitinsville" Connors - To "Ring-er" we leave a spare class ring so that the next time the original gets lost in Whitinsville she will have a substitute to show.

Albert "Chick" Sayles - To "Chick" we leave a well-fed lean hot-dog so that the next time he searches Mother Hubbard's cupboard and finds it empty, he and her daughter can have a Junior Reception of their own.

Hubert "Cupid" Keane - To "Cupid" we leave a row boat and a duck to safely escort beautiful Kathleen to her home across the briny deep. Let the duck paddle, Hubert.

Frances "Dish-a-Day" Dapkiewicz - To "Dishy-Daisy" we leave a dishrag and a box of Duz. Duz does everything, so they say, probably it will prove its chosen slogan, in spite of the shortage of manpower.

CLASS WILL

Louise "Cow-Hampshire" Gaffney-To "Cowey" we leave a bottle of "Pickled Peter's Pop for Pep!" With the gas shortage the way it is maybe she will have to travel on her reserve energy in order to reach the out-stretched arms of the New Hampshire sailor. We guarantee that the aforementioned bottle will supply her with an unlimited source of reserve power.

Mary "Pride of Hudson" Morgan - To "J.P." we leave an Army Pup Tent. We request that you pitch it on your front lawn, enabling a certain Sophomore to catch up on his sleep while waiting, even in the early hours of the morn, to escort you to school.

Leo "Carnival Crusader" Benoit - We illustrious Seniors have heard of your various escapades with a certain well-known young lady from a prominent village on the outskirts of Grafton. Undoubtedly this fair young Miss from the farm enjoys wholeheartedly the excursions you take to "White City." Thus, it is we leave to you now a spotless white Panama Suit in order that you might blend with the City and cause the female's heart to beat as fast as the Hobby-Horse Reel.

Doris "Voice in the Bus" Malley - To you we could not resist the temptation of bequeathing a shrill, sharp locomotive whistle. The next time Joe DiAntonio walks past while you are travelling your way homeward you can have the whistle handy. With its aid you won't have to strain your vocal cords by having to use that famous hog-call in order to attract his attention.

Pauline "Lonely Lena" Blanchard-To "Lena" we leave a Chicken Coop and a Rhode Island Hen. We feel sure that when Lee finally does return from his sojourn in the Army of dear old Uncle Sam, he will be more than willing to settle down in Woo-Sockie and what would be more profitable or pleasing to you both than a thriving chicken farm.

Barbara "Truckin' On Down the Avenue" Moroney - To "Truckin'" we leave a speedy P.T. boat in order that you might catch up to poor PeeWee way over there in Africa. If you get away from the shore quick enough I'm sure that despite the valiant efforts of Miss DesBarres she won't be able to leap in the boat as quickly as she used to leap into the front seat of the truck beside PeeWee while you stood on the curb with tears in your eyes.

CLASS WILL

To Father Foran we leave the splendid motto behind us. It will remain with us forever but you may likewise find further use for it with the coming classes.

To Father Kelly we leave a new joke book and an invitation to visit us and exhibit more of his humor.

To Father Collins we leave the password to the Senior class. "Knock, knock, who's there" will admit you graciously.

To Father Delehanty we leave a new debating team. I personally want to leave the mainstay of my debating speech, the sum total of thirteen million pickaninnies. I can't do a thing with them now; maybe you can use them.

BLUE MANTLE

STAFF

After long hours of toil, our Blue Mantle is ready to be sent away to be bound! For weeks the typewriting room has been piled high with white sheets and slip sheets. Bottles of alcohol, naphtha, correction fluid and gooey ink have littered the tables. The click, click of the typewriters and the whirr, whirr of the mimeograph have been incessant. The mimeoscopes have cast their ghastly blue glare at would-be artists. Bernice and William have debated, planned and argued while Elizabeth Fino reminded anyone who would listen that she was not the janitress.

It is all over and peace reigns supreme. The typewriting room is orderly again. In fact, it seems rather lifeless after the recent rush, almost as though a friend had departed leaving a great void. The atmosphere invites retrospection and while this mood lingers we recall the members of the editorial staff of The Blue Mantle and the part each played in producing the Yearbook of 1943.

The individual write-ups beside the pictures were composed by June Malloy, Dorothy Manion, Norma St. George, Eileen Chard, Rose Marie DiAntonio and Ruth Landry. Helen Moynihan took charge of the photographic work. Hers was the responsibility of arranging for the sittings, pasting the pictures on the mounts with precision and neatness, selecting the additional pictures. As the time allotted for this was brief it required some tactful handling to satisfy all. Irene Rykoski assisted Helen in this work.

Rose Ann DiAntonio, Eileen Hilferty, Dorothy Page and Louise Miller took the full responsibility of the Sponsor List. This included the sending of letters, checking returns and mailing cards of thanks to those who responded.

William Seaver, as Advertising Manager, mapped out the layouts for the advertisements. The stencil work was done by George Page '45, Francis Nugent '44, Francis Morin '45 and Gloria Bedard '43.

The exacting work of typing stencils was assumed by the following: Beatrice Perry, Clarence Morin, Cecelia Powers, Rose Marie DiAntonio, Bernice Wojnowski, Dorothy Page, Irene DeManche, Norma St. George, June Malloy, Eulalia Murphy, Alice Hayes, Cosmo Delano, Gloria Bedard, George Arsenault and William Murphy.

BLUE MANTLE STAFF

The tedious work of counting and sorting the thousands of sheets of mimeographed material was graciously performed by Irene Rykoski, Michael Minichiello and Elizabeth Fino. Elizabeth especially deserves commendation for her faithful assistance every afternoon. Not only did she count and sort for long hours after the day's work was done but she cleaned the rooms and left everything in perfect order for the next day.

Irene DeManche took full charge of the circulation. Each morning she made her collections and kept an accurate account of the payments.

Bernadette Melanson deserves a vote of thanks for her intensive work on the Alumni Lists. Lucille Newcombe, Norma St. George and June Malloy compiled the list of servicemen from St. Mary's School - Pro Deo et Pro Patria.

To these boys and girls and to all who in any way helped to make The Blue Mantle such an attractive Yearbook, we offer our thanks. If in the future years, the perusing of its pages brings happy memories of St. Mary's, we shall feel that our labor has been well repaid.

St. Thomas Aquinas Circle

The St. Thomas Aquinas Circle was established in 1939 by the Rev. John P. Donahue, as an Honor Group for all students attaining an average of 85% or over. There are two degrees of membership - with Distinction and Ordinary. The former requires a certification average of 85% or over in all subjects, the latter, 85% in four subjects, including Religion. The patron of the Honor Circle is St. Thomas Aquinas. Perhaps something about him will not be amiss at this time.

In the thirteenth, the greatest of centuries, lived and died a young nobleman, named Thomas of Aquino. At the age of five, his father brought him to the famous monastery of Monte Cassino, there to be instructed by the good monks in the first principles of religion and learning. He made such progress in his studies, that at the age of ten, he was sent to the University of Naples. Here he learned Rhetoric and Philosophy, but never to the neglect of the religious training which he so zealously imbibed at Monte Cassino.

At the age of seventeen, he entered the order of St. Dominic much against the will of his parents. Under the tutelage of the saintly scholar Albertus Magnus at Cologne, he advanced in wisdom and learning. His humility made him conceal his progress and deep penetration, so much so, that his school-fellows thought he learned nothing and on account of his silence, called him the Dumb Ox. Many times his master called him to solve obscure and knotty points. His answers so astounded his teacher that he said, "We call him the Dumb Ox, but he will give such a bellow in learning as will be heard all over the world." This praise made no impression on the humble scholar.

He continued to study at the famous University of Paris until its Faculty bestowed on him the degree of Doctor in 1257. Side by side with his love for study was his love and devotion for Christ. At the foot of the crucifix he found the solution to all his problems. By prayer and work, distrusting in his own abilities, allowing God to enlighten his understanding in his studies and reading, he gave us a constant example of the power of sanctity when accompanied by an interest in the sciences.

The following Seniors were deemed worthy of membership in this select circle during the year:

William F. X. Murphy, Rose Marie DiAntonio, Irene A. Rykoski, Lucille M. Newcombe, Dorothy E. Page, Bernice M. Wojnowski, Robert J. Fortier, Norma F. St. George, Dorothy G. Manion, Helen A. Moynihan, Alice R. Hayes, William J. Seaver, Jean F. Birmingham, Theresa M. Moroney, J. Ruth Landry, Irene L. DeManche, Barbara H. McClure, Mary June Malloy, Cosmo F. Delano, Elmira F. Chapdelaine, Clarence G. Morin, Jennie M. Cecere and Audrey T. FitzPatrick.

Dramatics

St. Mary's Commercial Club presented a novel program in the Assembly Hall on December 21st. While the object of the entertainment was to dramatize the daily routine in a business office, there was enough humor in it to make it enjoyable as well as instructive.

The first scene portrayed the budding typists tickling the keys to music. June Malloy, Margaret Rossetti, and Raymond Thomas gave a demonstration of the duties of a receptionist.

Cosmo Delano took the position of announcer and made the necessary introductions and explanations.

The rhythmic typists taking part were a selected group from the various typing classes. They answer to the following names: June Malloy, Cecilia Powers, Raymond Thomas, Alice Hayes, Dorothy Page, Doris Malley, Helen Kittredge, Jennie Cecere, William Seaver, Clarence Morin, Margaret Rossetti, Audrey FitzPatrick, Bernice Wojnowski, Ruth O'Brien, Rose Ann DiAntonio, Frances Bruce, Arlene Fenner, William Albin, Gloria Bedard, Leona Mann, Rosarie Edwards, Pauline Blanchard and Barbara Moroney.

The second part of the program proved to be rather humorous. Joseph Von Flatern filled the important position of general manager of a large manufacturing concern. In response to an advertisement, several applicants applied for the position in his office.

The cast for the second part consisted of:

ANNOUNCERS - Michael DeMatteis, Frances Dapkiewicz, Margaret Rossetti, Pauline Blanchard, and Assumpta Norcia.

EMPLOYER - Joseph Von Flatern

TIME WASTER - Leona Mann

OFFICE BOY - Robert Sullivan

APPLICANTS - Assumpta Norcia, Frances Bruce, Claire Dion, Marguerite Miller, Barbara Moroney, Pauline Blanchard and Arlene Fenner.

Dramatics

The final scene featured Norma St. George as the ideal secretary performing the daily duties in a business office. She was ably supported by the following:

EMPLOYER - William Seaver
EMPLOYER'S WIFE - June Malloy
OFFICE BOY - Robert Fitzpatrick
CALLERS - Clarence Morin and George Arsenault
UNBUSINESSLIKE OFFICE ASSISTANT - Rita Benoit
BUSINESS ASSOCIATE - Joseph Gormley
PROPERTY MAN - Aloysius FitzPatrick

On November 23, the SENIOR CLASSICAL put on a one-act play, the first play of the year. Under the expert guidance of Sr. Rose Concepta, and the willingness of the students participating, the play proved to be a great success.

It proved to be something different for it contained a humorous story and a great deal of musical selections. Those who rendered their services in this play were:

Jean Birmingham	-----	Ellen
Robert Fortier	-----	Lionel LeGrand
Henry Kaczowka	-----	Silas Pettingil
Irene Rykoski	-----	Mrs. Pettingil
Armand Desmaris	-----	Mr. Dunham
William Murphy	-----	Banker Hobbs
Dorothy Manion	-----	Millie
Helen Moynihan	-----	Mrs. Miller
Lucille Newcombe	-----	Mrs. Carr
(Richard Tierney	----	Zeke
Loafers (Thomas Gallagher	----	Eff
(Albert Luby	----	Lem
(Muriel Brock	----	Sally
Models (Rose Ann DiAntonio	----	Peggy
(Ruth O'Brien	----	Jane

At the conclusion of the play, Richard Tierney gave a vocal selection, Rose Ann DiAntonio-an accordian selection, and William Murphy contributed music on his magic violin.

SERVICEMEN'S BULLETIN

The members of the Senior Commercial Class of '43 will long remain in the high esteem of the boys and girls in the service who have ever attended St. Mary's whether they were privileged enough to graduate or not. It has been the custom of the Class for the past year to issue a monthly bulletin for the boys and girls whether they are in the service of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard or Marines.

The purpose of this bulletin is to give these Servicemen all the news possible that we feel will be of interest to them. The whereabouts of their friends and former classmates are made known to them through this bulletin.

The comic section has made an exceptional hit with the boys and girls because they are the characters! Any news they give about themselves we put into practical use. We find that they enjoy seeing themselves peeling potatoes, washing clothes, writing letters, posing for pictures, breakfasting in bed, digging ditches and other things that are daily occurrences in army life.

When the boys and girls heard of the newly acquired custom of attending the Sacraments for their intention, letters poured in from all parts of the globe in which they expressed their heart-felt gratitude. They explained that acts such as these help to keep their chins up when the going gets tough.

Letters rained in when our bulletin announced that our beloved Father Foran had asked for family rosaries. From their letters we gather that these spiritual gifts are priceless treasures to them and more welcome than anything else.

We try, in our small way, to show these boys and girls who are sacrificing everything in life for us, just how much we appreciate their continual sacrifices in our behalf. We have tried our utmost to make this bulletin interesting and hope they have enjoyed reading it as much as we have writing it.

Every month the Senior Commercial Students send this long, newsy letter to two hundred boys and girls in the active service of Uncle Sam. They furnish the colorful sheets, the envelopes and stamps and consider it a loving duty to our dear ones. Regretfully, we shall soon turn this task over to our successors as a precious legacy which we know they will cherish.

OLD GLORY

This flag of ours, 'tis true it's pretty,
But more behind it stands --
To us it means our country free,
Unlike so many lands.

Let's keep it there, forever free,
And love it to the end.
Let's buy some stamps, both you and me,
For jeeps and tanks to send.

Ruth O'Brien

TRIBUTE TO GEORGE TRUDELL

GEORGE TRUDELL was graduated from St. Mary's High School in 1932. During his high school course, he was an all around good student, excelling especially in debating. As a Senior, he was on the team which won the first leg on the Bishop O'Leary trophy now in permanent possession of his Alma Mater. In this series of debates, George defended both sides of the question with equal ability.

In 1936, he was graduated from Boston College. During his high school and college days, he worked part time for the Western Union Telegraph Company. He was president of the Musical Club, played the clarinet in the college band and the bassoon in the orchestra. He was also a member of the College Glee Club. He took an active part in the Rifle Team and played on the Boston College Team against Harvard and several other colleges. He further displayed his interest in arms by his work on the Fencing Team of the College. When he finished at Boston College, he received appointments as relief manager and operator for that company at Falmouth, Provincetown, Old Orchard, Fitchburg, North Adams and Salem.

Even in high school, George had the idea of a military career in his mind and all of these other connections were preliminaries which he set aside as soon as he was in a position to follow his vocation. In June 1937, he went to Squantum, Mass. to make application with the United States Naval Aviation Corps. In preparation for his life work, he took a course at Squantum at the end of which he passed his examination and began his flying career. After a short furlough, he reported to Pensacola and was graduated from the Air School in December 1938.

George was assigned to a Bomber Squadron at Pearl Harbor and remained there until June 4, 1940 when he went to Cavite, P.I. with a Bomb Squadron stopping at Johnson Islands, Wake Islands, and Midway Islands.

On May 30, 1940, he married Betty Anne Shaw of North Adams. The following little incident connected with his marriage is both interesting and instructive. He received a Catholic education and always practised his faith. When George and Betty presented themselves to the Spanish priest at Honolulu and requested that their union should be blessed with a Nuptial Mass, the priest was a little astonished for the marriages there do not usually take place at a Nuptial Mass. He was astonished and edified when the young couple received Holy Communion in the tiny Spanish Chapel on their wedding day. Those who know George well would not be surprised for it is what we would expect him to do. He left Honolulu for Cavite and his wife followed by clipper a few hours later.

He was assigned to the S. S. Langley and remained on this ship until it was turned into a supply ship. After that he was placed in the Utility Service which meant that he was to fly any kind of a ship. His favorite ship was the small, high powered fighters and chasers.

After the war broke out, he fought at Java in December 1941. He lead a squadron to Bataan in January 1941 and was shot through the head and legs. In February he wrote saying: "I am at Corregidor" and that is the last word received directly from him.

He was reported Missing in Action at Corregidor and if he is still living, he is probably in some Japanese prison camp.

Indirect word has come through a friend of his that George had fully recovered from his wounds although his injuries had left him lame and that he was back with the Navy Communications at Corregidor. He believes that George is a prisoner. George has the honor of being awarded the Purple Heart conferred by our President in recognition of his bravery.

Clarence Morin

FINIS CORONAT OPUS

A few months ago, we read in the "Daily News" that George Trudell, '32, had been awarded the Purple Heart by the Navy Department. What does that honor really mean? It is bestowed upon those who have shown courage, daring and good example under fire. "Under fire" means under close pressure from the enemy, when coolness, and a level head mean perhaps not only the saving of one life but of many.

The strongest instinct man possesses is the preservation of his own life. When to save others, a man gives up his own life, makes the supreme sacrifice, his courage is that of his Master, Christ, "Greater love than this no man hath, but to lay down his life for his friend."

Coolness under fire also connotes perfect self-control. Self-control in trying circumstances is an asset every real man or woman strives to have. To control feelings, to submerge self, to act as though nothing bothered us, - such perfections can be found in real men and real women.

To George Trudell, we have attributed these sterling virtues of virility, courage, self-control, coolness in difficult circumstances. Where did George acquire these qualities of real manhood? We say, from his sound, thorough Catholic training - from his years at St. Mary's - from his years at Boston College - and from the discipline necessitated by his Navy training. We are proud of George Trudell. We are proud of our hero! St. Mary's first casualty to the Supreme Giver of Life - a boy whose good example, we trust all graduates of St. Mary's will try to imitate. In closing so, may they bring honor and glory to their Alma Mater! To them, we too, will award a badge of honor - a promise of a remembrance before God's throne - a golden heart, for duty well done and a life of sacrifice for the greater honor of God and Our Lady.

Candy Sale

One of the big annual features of the SENIOR COMMERCIAL CLASS is the CANDY SALE. For four years the members of this class have conducted a highly successful sale of homemade sweets. This year things looked rather discouraging. There was the sugar shortage which made homemade candy almost out of the question but we were not going to allow a little obstacle like that to cast us down so we solicited all kinds of candy whether made at home or bought in the store.

By means of a letter campaign, we contacted the boys and girls who were members of previous commercial classes and asked them to donate candy. How they responded to the call is a proof of their loyalty to St. Mary's. We gathered ten cartons of candy which we neatly bagged and sold for the small sum of five cents a bag. In some of the bags, we even put a money prize of a nickel as an inducement to our patrons. The alumni of St. Mary's gave us generous support both in cash and in attractive awards which aroused the interest and support of the sales force.

The girls of the Senior Commercial Class donned dainty caps and aprons one bright October morning and went to all the rooms in the High and Grammar schools with their wares. They returned in a few moments for a fresh supply. We could have sold ten more cartons with very little exertion of salesmanship--if we had only had them to sell.

Besides the actual sale of candy, we had all kinds of prizes for the boys and girls in the Grammar school who helped to solicit chances for us and right now we want to say that our sale would never have been such a grand success without these young salespeople. They backed us with a real school spirit.

The proceeds of the sale amounted to $233 which is the largest amount ever raised on any sale held at school. We are justly proud to think that our class was not only able to uphold the record of past classes but even to exceed it.

Debates

January, 1943 and from the closed doors of the assembly hall, a vigorous voice could be heard declaiming in a forceful rhetorical style. Once again, St. Mary's debating season had started with enthusiastic anticipation.

After spending days and nights studying speeches, writing and learning rebuttals, then reciting them over and over again, the team was pronounced to be ready, by Father Delahanty, to face their first rivals.

On the Affirmative side were: first speaker-Richard Gallagher, who showed himself to be both forceful and masterly in his delivery; second speaker-Catherine Clement, a sweet little girl with a touching, appealing style; third speaker-William Murphy, an efficient fast-thinker who tied all the loose ends of the argument into a very intricate knot; alternate-Barbara McClure, staunch, ever ready to carry on.

The Negative side consisted of; first speaker-Jean Birmingham, a charming dramatic speaker with a compelling voice; second speaker, Avis Hubbard, increasing the power of the team with her vigorous presentation; third speaker, Robert Fortier, a human dynamo in a debate with the power to put it across; alternate-Francis McNamara, always there with his efficient, formidable pile of books. The question was-Resolved "That the Place for Married Women is in the Home and Not in Industry."

With this excellent group of boys and girls, the team carried its way up the first rung of the ladder, by a victory for both sides. That night, January 11, the Negative team debated St. John's of Worcester, in Worcester, while the Affirmative side defended their home ground against St. Peter's High of Worcester. There were, incidentally, five teams left in this preliminary debating. They were (1) Sacred Heart of St. Ann's Parish, (2) Ascension High, both of Worcester (3) Holy Name of Chicopee, (4) St. Michael's of Northampton and (5) St. Mary's of Westfield.

The halls of St. Mary's once more resounded as the debaters began again to practise enthusiastically, yet in a more determined tone.

Debates

Once again the flag of victory was raised as St. Mary's gained its second victory. The trip to Worcester was again undertaken and again it was successful as they fought on zealously the supposedly dreaded Ascension High "all-girl" team. Jubilation filled the hearts of all that memorable night.

Then came a tedious period of waiting. Both sides were eager to be in that last final debate. Finally the news was announced; Holy Name of Chicopee had won over St. Mary's High of Westfield. That meant the Affirmative team of St. Mary's would debate the Holy Name of Chicopee.

Another night and the hall was again filled to capacity. What a never-to-be forgotten night that was! The debaters and students of St. Mary's were filled with excitement and tense, hopeful expectation. As the debate went on, the atmosphere became even more tense. Each side was arguing to its utmost ability. As the debaters came to a fighting end, the judges filed solemnly out to make their decision. The students muttered silent Hail Mary's to the Blessed Virgin, a never-failing source of aid. Finally, the chairman of the judges came forward to give the final decision. Silence came over the hall as swiftly as black clouds shut out the bright shafts of sunlight. Then--Pandemonium broke loose! St. Mary's had won!! The judge's final words were lost in the burst of cheering that followed.

St. Mary's debaters had won the championship of the Springfield diocese and secured permanent possession of the Bishop O'Leary cup.

VICTORY PROGRAM

After travelling around the diocese for twelve years, the Bishop Thomas M. O'Leary Debating Trophy has come home to St. Mary's - "not for just an hour, not for just a day, not for just a year, but always." In 1932 it came to St. Mary's bright and new at the beginning of its career-at that time Monsignor Doyle, since deceased, brought it from the Bishop to Milford. Now like a weary troubadour, it returns to find a welcome from a jubilant St. Mary's.

To mark this happy event, an appropriate program was staged in the Assembly Hall. Father Collins acted as chairman and kept us highly entertained with his keen wit. Father Donahue, our former principal, gave a few brief remarks and then the big moment came. Father Delehanty, our debating moderator presented the silver cup to our Pastor, Father Foran. In the course of his talk, Father Delehanty congratulated the debaters on the serious work they had put into the debates and expressed the pleasure and satisfaction he felt in working with them by saying, "No matter how much time I spent or how hard I worked with these boys and girls, I did it willingly and I must confess that we had a good time during the period of training and debating."

In acknowledging the honor which had come to St. Mary's, Father Foran used the metal of which the cup was made to bring home to the students the qualities which should be found in them. "This cup will be an inspiration during your lives. Memories good and memories harsh and bitter may come but they can all be transmuted into happy memories. This cup will always be a challenge to greater achievements, a challenge to make you better boys and girls and stronger men and women."

Robert Fortier, one of the Negative debaters, speaking in behalf of the teams, thanked Father Foran for his interest and encouragement, and Father Delehanty and Father Donahue for the excellent training they had given them.

Father Donahue addressed Father Delehanty in these impressive words, "I congratulate Father Delehanty on his success. I am in a position to understand fully all the sweating and heartaches that went into this master-piece of debating. I enjoyed listening to this debate, a pleasure which I never had when I coached the team in the past."

Our own Glee Club rendered appropriate selections bringing to a close one of the biggest and happiest days in the history of St. Mary's High School.

PRESENTATION OF BISHOP O'LEARY TROPHY

Assemblies

The year of 1942-1943 brought to St. Mary's many interesting and inspiring speakers.

The first of our guests was David Rubinoff, the famous violinist, on November twenty-fifth. In a group of semi-classical numbers, he entertained us for the most exciting of half-hours we ever had. More about him is written elsewhere in this Yearbook, but we can not pass him by here without a recurrence of the happy memories of that thrilling day.

On December eighteenth, a rally for our Victory Drive was held, at which Ensign Donald T. Phillips was guest speaker.

On January fifteenth, Father Foran awarded to our champion debaters after their first victory, gifts of medals to the boys and bracelets to the girls. This public approval on the part of Father Foran, spurred us on to greater efforts toward success and possession of the coveted trophy.

On the same day, Lieutenant Joseph E. Gallagher addressed the student body in an attempt to arouse the school to an even greater effort toward the buying of bonds and stamps. His talk was extremely inspiring, and all left the hall determined to "sacrifice till it hurts" for the boys in service.

On January twenty-seventh, we were again favored by an alumnus in our third rally of the year. This time Lieutenant Arthur Nealon from Mississippi addressed the students.

On February fifth, we were again assembled for the Presentation of the Debating Trophy to Father Foran by Father Delehanty, Debating Coach. Father Foran, in replying, made an instructive analogy between the metal constituents of the trophy and corresponding virtues.

February eighth brought a religious visitor. This time it was a member of the Society of the Divine Word, Father Driscoll. In a very witty, clever, yet deeply religious talk, he dwelt at length on the advantages of Religious life. We were indeed very sorry to see him leave for we did enjoy listening to his stories.

Assemblies

March third brought us to the Auditorium again for another enlightening talk. This time it was a member of the Society of Jesus, Father Lawrence McCarthy. At the time, Father McCarthy was conducting the Novena in honor of St. Francis Xavier. He told stories, one after another keeping us in a constant state of hilarity. He enjoyed visiting us as much as we did in having him. The impression he made upon us will never be forgotten.

On March eighteenth, the Senior Classical presented a St. Patrick's Day Program. It was enjoyed by all, though we were sad without the presence of our pastor. Nevertheless two days afterward, it gave us great pleasure to repeat the performance for Father Foran.

May twenty-fourth, we again assembled in the Hall. This time two charming religious, in blue habits and veils, members of an order called "Daughters of Mary, Health of the Sick," addressed the student body. One, Sister Virginia told in a very sweet and simple manner, the origin of their foundation, which was established to care for the sick and the poor. They spoke in the hope of interesting some of the girls who liked nursing in vocations to their order.

On various occasions throughout the year, we have had the happiness and pleasure of listening to the cultured and inspirational talks of our beloved pastor. His main theme which he stressed particularly with the Seniors, was the value of character. His Latin quotations will resound in our ears as long as we live -- Esto vir! Excelsior! Esto quod videris esse! -- how can we forget them! We shall carry with us also, his inspirational talks from the book, "The War is the Passion" by Carol Houslander. The goal of womanhood reached by Judith and Deborah and Esther, as well as Joan of Arc, has its modern counterpart in this young English author, "What others can do, I can do." The glory of true womanhood, exemplified by our Blessed Mother, and embodied in the beauties of the Chapel dedicated to her honor, is the goal of all St. Mary's girls. We thank you, Father Foran, for your tribute to our embryo womanhood.

In retrospect, we have indeed spent a most profitable year - with the stressing of character -- courtesy and culture, - as embodied in our courses and instructions. We thank you St. Mary's for our interesting as well as inspirational assemblies.

Dances

"Come and trip it as you go
On the light fantastic toe."

-Milton

Traditionally, the eve of All Saints is Halloween, and St. Mary's Seniors celebrated with a dance in the School Auditorium. Decorations of orange and black gaily festooned the lights and windows, while leering pumpkin faces stared at us mockingly from the stage. The Co-chairmen of the dance were Irene Rykoski and Albert Luby. The dance programs were pumpkin-shaped, with fantastic faces. The music was furnished by our own recording machine under the supervision of Louis Tumolo and Michael Minichiello. Games were played and lolly pops were awarded the girls as favors.

Our second dance was the Tuesday before Thanksgiving. Jean Birmingham and Robert Fortier were Co-chairmen of this gala affair. The hall was very daintily decorated in yellow and white, - doors, windows, stage and lights. Musical games were played as well as some of the old-fashioned square dances. The Virginia Reel seemed to hold the favor of all devotees of Terpsichore. All enjoyed the fast and rhythmic stepping of this ever popular reel. Dance programs too, were appropriate - turkeys in full color, on a white background. That night will linger long in the memory of all of us.

On December twenty-third, the Senior Commercial division sponsored a Christmas party. The committee in charge consisted of Lorraine Leheney, June Malloy, Norma St. George and Joseph Gormley. Decorations for this dance were banned because of the terrible Boston disaster a few weeks before. The square dances rivalled the games for fun and entertainment. All departed for the Christmas holidays surfeited with the joy and happiness that always accompanies a social at St. Mary's.

Our next festive affair was our last social before Lent, a combined Victory and Valentine Dance. It was held February tenth, to commemorate the success of the debaters in winning the Cup. The committee of this affair consisted of William F. X. Murphy, Robert J. Fortier, Jean F. Birmingham and Barbara H. McClure, the Senior debaters. The Auditorium was lavishly decorated with hearts, -big ones, medium-sized ones, little ones, tiny ones--hanging from the windows, the doors, the lights, the pictures and the stage. Arthur Luippold '42, now in the service, entertained with his famous impersonations of Carmen Miranda. The Virginia Reel and the Conga were again general favorites. A Valentine Box of candy, donated by Barbara McClure, was awarded the holder of the lucky number.

Though looking forward now to the Junior Prom and Graduation, we shall never forget the highlights of our Senior Year, when in a fairyland of color we danced the hours away.

LISTEN FRESHMAN

Perhaps you hate to look forward
To the rest of your scholastic days
But it's sure worth stickin' to it,
For in the long run it pays.

Sure there's Latin and French and Trig,
And homework, I'll say, galore,
There are words to write, and angles to cite,
Sometimes it's really a bore.

But Oh, there's light to all this plight,
There are foodsales and dances and games,
There's fun for all, there's joy and glee,
And cheers for those who've won fame.

All through the years there are sniles and tears,
But sadness won't get you down,
If you eat your spinach every day,
Oh boy! will you go to town.

As each and every day rolls by,
And graduation day draws near,
Will you be thankful you stayed in school,
To possess a diploma dear.

Rubinooff And His Violin

Seldom had St. Mary's experienced such anxiety as it did on the morning of November 24, 1942. Advertisements in the newspapers and posters in the store windows had been announcing for a fortnight the arrival of the great artist in Milford. He was to present a recital of popular music in the Town Hall on that memorable evening. But now preparations were being made by the faculty for a visit which the artist was to make to the school. At about a quarter of one, Sister Superior ushered him into the hall and presented - Rubinooff and his violin!

Mr. Rubinooff spoke of his boyhood days in Russia and of the difficulties he had had in weathering the elements to continue his musical education. He told of Victor Herbert who had accepted him as a protege, and with whom he, Rubinooff, had lived for many years. In discussing his violin, he revealed that it was a true Stradivarius, previously owned by the Romanoff family and insured for one hundred thousand dollars. Mr. Rubinooff claimed as his crowning achievement the attraction of two hundred and twenty-five thousand people to one of his concerts in Grand Park, Chicago, with the Chicago Philharmonic Orchestra.

The climactic moment arrived when he finally put his "Strad" to work, playing excerpts from his evening performance. These excerpts included parts of the "Dance of the Russian Peasant", an original composition, "Intermezzo" by Heinz Provost, "Rhapsody in Blue", by George Gershwin, "Oh! Johnny! Oh!", and "Souvenir" by Franz Drdla. On this last number, the E string of his violin broke, bringing his program to an all too sudden conclusion. The string was later confiscated as a souvenir of his visit. Before leaving, Mr. Rubinooff spoke in behalf of the Milford Hospital to whom the proceeds of his concert were to be donated. He also commended the children on their perfect attention and remarked upon the splendid acoustics of the auditorium. That we might remember him, he left a few pictures of himself for the school file. Before he departed, it was the pleasure of this writer to talk with him and to play for him in the evening.

Even now when students reminisce upon the past school year, the story of Rubinooff's visit always reappears. It is yet a pleasure to recall to mind this program, which was indeed one of the highlights of the musical year.

Dancing Fingers

If you should visit the second floor of St. Mary's, do not be surprised if you hear some lively tunes emanating from the typing room. No, it is not a night club, it is just the typists doing their exercises to music.

"Typing to Music" is an interesting and helpful project. The students type what is termed "rhythmical" exercises to the swing of the music. For example, "The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog." blends well with the catchy swing of "Flying Fingers Patrol."

"Typing to Music" has a purpose; it is not only used to please the students, but it limbers the fingers which are naturally stiff when first beginning to type. The rhythmic that is typed during the music contains almost every letter in the alphabet so that in the course of the musical practice, the fingers move swiftly over every key on the keyboard, thus becoming more accustomed to the location of all the letters.

This year a new use for the music has been added. During the changing of classes the students are inclined to walk slowly, which gives forth a very unbusiness-like effect. To remedy this, a record is put on at each change of classes, so loud that the music reaches the ears of all the "strollers." As a result, the students fall into step with the music, thus giving a military appearance to the marching students.

Such things as "Typing to Music" show the up-to-date status of St. Mary's High School. The class of '43 will never forget all the opportunities which have been placed before each and everyone of them by our Alma Mater. These enable them to qualify as graduates of St. Mary's and prepare themselves for their future lives, whatever they may choose to do.

Norma St. George

RADIO CLUB

During the past year, it has been the privilege of a few of the High School girls to be heard over station WAAB under the auspices of Life Bread. The first performers to represent our school were a group composed of members of all the classes. They went to Worcester and did credible work in entertaining their listening public by singing "Love's Old Sweet Song". The efforts of the girls, as well as those of Sister Rose Concepta, were amply rewarded when this group received first prize on the following Saturday. The award of five dollars was gladly given to Rev. William J. Foran as an aid to our goal in donating the altar in the Chapel of the lower church.

The second group, although not as successful, was equally good. Their unusual choice of a choral speech was well received by all who listened. This time the group was limited to sixteen members of the Junior and Senior rooms. Their selection was from Macbeth and required a great deal of time in order to attain the perfection that was evident upon its completion. This group too was highly complimented by our sponsors.

Our third presentation in May, took place on Holy Saturday, when a trio composed of Jeanne Letourneau, '46 soprano, Mary Keenan '45 alto, and with Anita Fortier, '46 at the piano rendered "The Bells of St. Mary's." This group not only were complimented by the audience at Worcester, where they sang at the Bancroft, but also by the Boston Station. They were also the recipients of a first prize of five dollars.

Our last appearance is scheduled for June fourth. At that time we hope to have Clare Cassidy, a member of the Class of '42 render Gounod's "Ave Maria." We know that Clare will bring credit upon her Alma Mater, for she has an exceptionally sweet voice.

It might be well at this point to mention the cooperation that has been given so willingly by the students of both the High and Grammar Schools. It has been by means of this cooperation so well exemplified by them that our representatives have done so well. If it were not for the wrappers that continued to pour in every day from the different classes we would be unable to demonstrate our talents on the radio, thus giving our school a wider and greater reputation.

Helen Moynihan

St. Mary's Minstrel Show this year took the form of a Variety Show. With a plentiful supply of good soloists and a supporting chorus of a hundred voices from St. Mary's School, it went over with a big bang. In fact, it is ranked as the best show of its type that St. Mary's has produced and that is going some.

The black faced End Men-Martin Lynch, Ray Edwards, Red Moran, Chicken Fitzpatrick, Joe Gormley, Dick Phillips and Mike Minichiello filled in all the quiet spots with their comical antics which kept the audience in roars.

The soloists were: June Malloy, Louise Knowlton, Richard Tierney, Theresa Carey, Jean Birmingham, Peggy Peters, Mary Keenan, Peter Keenan, Hubert Keene, Albert Luby, William Murphy, Francis McNamara, Adele Melanson, Mary Jane Deeley, Edith and Jeanne Letourneau, Robert Fortier, Veronica Sullivan, Helen and Joseph Pagani and Richard Gallagher. They were all excellent but Adele Melanson and Mary Jane Deeley took the house with "Waltzing in the Clouds."

Robert Donovan, as interlocutor, passed out some timely hits which brought an appreciative response from the audience. William Murphy received a big share of glory not only on account of his violin selections but because of his assistance in directing the show.

The Chorus work was especially good and the dancing specialties by the Pagani children were exceptionally attractive.

The show was directed by Mrs. Lill Gleason who gave unstintingly of her time and who is in a large measure responsible for the great success of the affair. Financially, it brought the biggest returns of any Minstrel we have ever had.

Lastly and most important, the audience was well satisfied with the production and were generous in their expressions of approval. Of course, while we are passing out all these bouquets, we must humbly admit that the great number of Seniors who took part were really the ones who put it over.

Rose Marie DiAntonio

La Clase de Español

The Class of '43 had the privilege of being "primo" members of La Clase de Español. In the year of 1940, Sr. Joseph Anne became a member of the faculty of St. Mary's to take charge of initiating us into the intricacies of the language of our Southern neighbors.

The class consisted of twelve sophomores all eager and enthusiastic for something new. At the end of our first lesson we could say, "Buenos días" and "Hasta mañana" and did we feel proud of our Spanish vocabulary! "Well begun is half done" expressed our complacent sentiments as we left the room on that first day with "Hasta mañana, Hermana."

At the close of our first year, we were familiar enough with the language to carry on simple conversations. In fact, we were not permitted to speak a word of English in class. Hence, it was speak Spanish or say nothing and being a loquacious group, we spoke Spanish, stumbling at first and as the year rolled on, more fluently.

When La Clase de Espanol assembled in the Junior year, we found that three had fallen by the wayside and only nine remained to pursue the very interesting work of this semester. We learned to say our prayers in Spanish, we even did a little warbling, rendering "América" and "Buenos Noches Damas", if not with Glee Club finis, at least with Spanish gusto.

Besides learning to speak the language of the ancient country, we delved into the history of those gallant defenders of the Iberian Peninsula.

It was a pleasure to attend La Clase de Español, giving us a better understanding of the Spanish people, their language and their customs, which in these days with so many attempts to unite our country with our Spanish speaking people of South America is an advantage not to be underestimated.

OUR GLEE CLUB

"Music hath charms --" so runs a very old saying which can well be repeated with thought of our Glee Club which has so well entertained us on all the important occasions of the year.

With the exception of a few of the more talented members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes, the Glee Club is composed entirely of Juniors and Seniors. Sister Rose Concepta held the practice the first period every Friday. Irene Rykoski, 1943, who acted as accompanist was supported by our Rubinoff, William F.X. Murphy.

The work of the Glee Club is a very important one, the fruit of which will remain with the students as long as they live enriching their lives with a love for good music. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever" Shelley said. By singing, the members gained an appreciation of music; and by hearing it, the audience learned to love the beauty of music thus verifying the words of the poet.

OUR SUNDAY VISITOR

The need and necessity of the study of English in the schools of America was brought home rather drastically to the various Educational War Boards who corrected the V-12 examinations, given throughout the country on April second by the Army and Navy College Board. It was rather an appalling announcement to hear that only eleven percent of the boys who took these examinations passed. The reason for the failure of the other eight-nine percent was due to deficiency in English.

How much we at St. Mary's, appreciate the foresight of Father Donahue, our former Principal, when in 1939, he instituted the custom of writing a weekly essay, suggested by some appealing article in "Our Sunday Visitor." It really served a double purpose, for not only were we able to develop our skills in writing fluently but we also acquired a love for Catholic reading.

To further our interest, prizes were awarded-first prize - one dollar and a second prize of fifty-cents. We are happy to say that the names of the Class of 1943 were mentioned frequently as recipients of these awards. We owe Father Donahue a vote of thanks for helping us to improve our minds and our capabilities in so entertaining a manner. We really feel that "Finis Coronat Opus"-The end crowns the work.

THE SCHOOLS AT WAR

When "The Schools at War" program was proposed as a means for students to participate in the actual carrying on of the war, St. Mary's took her place in the foreground. A drive was promptly started to sell nine hundred dollars worth of bonds and stamps, the price of an army jeep. How we went over the top is graphically described under another heading. Suffice it to say, St. Mary's has raised enough money, not for A JEEP but for A DOZEN JEEPS.

The success of the drive was due in large measure to the frequent rallies held in the Assembly Hall. These programs included patriotic musical selections, the reading of the amount of sales for the period, an address on some subject pertaining to the work of buying bonds and stamps. The rallies closed with the National Anthem and the Salute to the Flag. The rally addresses were given by different boys from St. Mary's who are now in the service and who happened to be in town on furlough.

The first of this series of pep talks was given by Ensign Donald Phillips, former star debater of St. Mary's. He complimented the faculty and the student body on the wholehearted support they were giving to the drive. He stressed the importance of the work the students were doing rating it on a par with the work done by the actual combatants. Ensign Phillips gave a few interesting and humorous remarks on the life of the navy boys and closed his speech by an appeal to keep up the good work until the end.

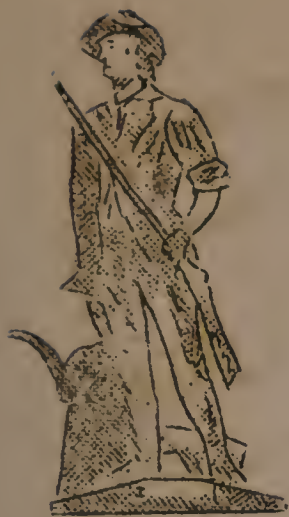

THE SCHOOLS AT WAR

Lieutenant Joseph Gallagher was another of the rally speakers. He too was a debater having won the distinction of being on the team in the year of 1932 when St. Mary's won the first leg on the Bishop O'Leary cup which is now in permanent possession of St. Mary's. Lieutenant Gallagher took as his keynote the idea of an "All Out" war, explaining that the phrase meant every man, woman and child was called upon to help to the very limit. Not only were they called upon to assist financially in this stupendous task but they were to give their moral support to the men in the armed service. He emphasized the great encouragement the men received from knowing that the folks back home were praying for them. It propped them up and kept the morale high. Lieutenant Gallagher lauded the work done by the chaplains in the service and told us incidents of their heroic self-sacrificing lives. He concluded his remarks with a word of thanks to St. Mary's for the training he had received while a student here. Due to his debating experience, he said, he could face an audience without having to worry about having his knees knock and his voice fail him.

Lieutenant Arthur Nealon proved to be a very entertaining talker. Like his predecessors, he was a famous debater too. Arthur has the unique honor of having been made first lieutenant before his twenty-second birthday. He was made second lieutenant before he was twenty-one being at that time the youngest lieutenant in the army. Arthur expressed the satisfaction he felt in hearing of the great work being done at the school. He then launched off into an entertaining account of army life. He swayed us from laughter to near tears and we could hardly believe that the time was up when he made his bow.

The sale of stamps and bonds has continued until at the present the total has reached the substantial figure of $12,878. During the month of March 1943, the school had 94% of the student body purchasing stamps regularly and it is our ambition to keep up this high standard or even increase it.

WAR BOND DRIVE

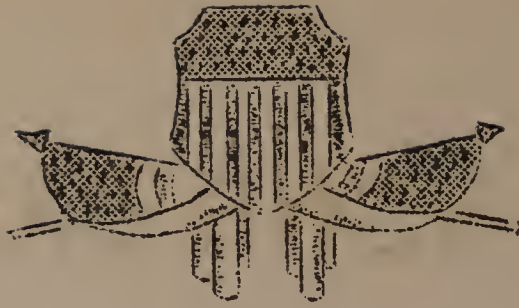

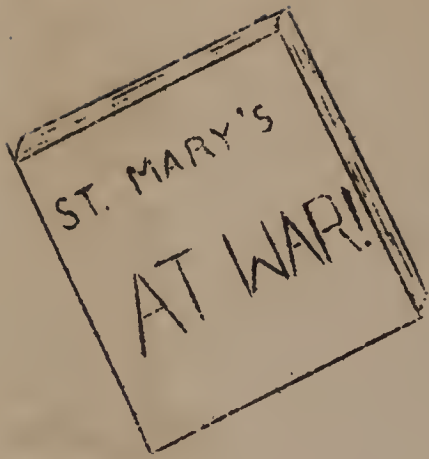

Spread over the entire globe, from Iceland to the Solomons and from India to Gibraltar, our American boys are waging a grim struggle for their own lives and for their country. In every corner of the United States, in camps and training stations, our youth are massed in preparation for the battle abroad. There are literally millions of the best blood in America, who must be fed, clothed, sheltered and armed to compete with the most highly developed militaristic powers in the history of civilization. Upon the civilians at home--fathers, brothers, sons and mothers, sisters and daughters rests the heavy responsibility of providing for them. Selfishness and greed on the home front have their direct effect on the very lives of the men on the firing line.

It is perfectly possible for our Government to approach bankruptcy; our Army and our Navy are not financial producers, but consumers. The people on the home front then, must finance this war.

The Victory Bond Drive began at St. Mary's early in December, when the Schools at War Program was inaugurated in Washington. Through Directors appointed in each state, this program was carried from Washington to Boston and from there into every city and town in Massachusetts.

Our participation in the Scrap Book Campaign, our numerous rallies held in the Assembly Hall, our graphic presentation showing our daily progress as the School Bulletin Board reached its peak in April when we went over the top in our Jeep Campaign to win the coveted Minute Man Flag. Our highest total for the year was realized in April when on Patriot's Day, our fund had passed the goal by reaching the twelve thousand mark.

Our drive is still going strong! Every pupil of St. Mary's both in High and Grammar School, realizes the seriousness of America and is fast becoming war-conscious. We know that the appeal comes not for gifts, but for bonus-loans that will eventually be repaid with interest. The purpose of the bonds? --- to support our fathers and brothers and relatives and America. It's our responsibility to assume the burden of the future America. Let's continue our All-Out for Victory - a total war effort to indicate the intensity of our patriotism at St. Mary's.

SCRAP BOOK

An important feature of the Schools at War Program was the Scrap Book Contest. Having for its object the promotion of the sale of defense stamps and war bonds, St. Mary's entered it with patriotic zest.

The Scrap Book contained contributions from the high and grammar schools. Many of the posters submitted were exceptionally attractive and the slogans accompanying them were very unique. Besides the artistic work, many write-ups described the war activities of the school. The titles covered in these compositions included - The Scrap Collection, The Bond and Stamp Drive, The Servicemen's Bulletin, Rallies and many others intended to keep up the spirit of the Program.

A collection of "front page" newspaper clippings gave variety to the Scrap Book. There was also a large front page advertisement from the Milford Daily News giving the addresses and telephone numbers of students who had charge of scrap collections.

Copies of The Servicemen's Bulletin and of various programs conducted during the campaign were included. Bar graphs, miniatures of the ones on the Bulletin Board, showed the progress of the sale of Stamps and Bonds.

William Albin, '44, took some photographs of the Bulletin Board, the Graphs, the mountain of tin cans, the heaps of Nylon stockings, the grammar school windows-appropriately decorated for the campaign and some of the large bond investors of both schools.

The Scrap Books from Massachusetts were displayed during Lexington week at Jordan Marsh's store in Boston. Thousands of people visited the exhibit and the best books were sent to other state exhibits. Ours was not chosen for this honor but we are satisfied because we know that our book was good and that it reflects credit on St. Mary's.

Bernadette Melanson

In collaboration with the "Schools at War" program instituted by the National Board of Education, the faculty and students of St. Mary's High School have been doing their utmost to do their part in insuring final victory. The purchase of war bonds and stamps by the students indicates that the school's quota will be well surpassed.

But our war program has not stopped here; there is another factor which has become of great importance in molding the future airmen of America. This is the new Aeronautics Course available to Junior and Senior students. The necessity and importance of this instruction cannot be overlooked, especially in view of the stress which Army and Navy officials lay upon these courses. The course itself gives the air-minded youth the opportunity to acquire the basic fundamentals of aviation. Not to be outdone by other schools in the state, St. Mary's has made every effort to make this instruction the best available, as will be seen in view of the following factors.

The school accepted no hit-or-miss aeronautics text; several were examined before a selection was made. After deliberation a textbook, Elements of Pre-Flight Aeronautics, compiled by the Teachers College, University of Nebraska (Macmillan) was supplied to each of the twenty-one students taking the course.

The enthusiasm of the students, girls as well as boys, is clearly apparent when one sees the class in action. Five class periods are devoted each week to this instruction, while some of the pupils build model planes at home and use them in school to study airplane construction. A class bulletin board keeps the students posted on aircraft improvements as they appear in newspapers and magazines.

In truth the class is "up in the air"! But so is the rest of the school in an effort to "keep 'em flying", to enable the airmen of today to keep the skies clear for the airmen of tomorrow.

MINUTE MAN PROGRAM

Early in 1941, when the War Savings Program was started those in charge began looking for a symbol that would appeal to the hearts of all Americans. It was believed that one representing the fighting men of America would be appropriate. Finally the French Statue of the Minute Man, which stands on the battlefield at the North Bridge in the city of Concord, was chosen along with the slogan "America on Guard".

The Minute Man has a special meaning from Revolutionary Days, when part of the provincial militia was suspected of having divided loyalties. Those who could be trusted and relied upon to take up arms at a moments notice were called "Minute Men".

This Minute Man Statue was dedicated on April 19, 1875. In the preceeding years a Concord farmer, Ebenezer Hubbard, who owned the land where the unforgettable battle took place, raised the Stars and Stripes, over the spot where the shot heard round the world was fired, every April 19 th. When Mr. Hubbard died he left a thousand dollars in his will to erect a statue in memory of the Minute Man.

When twenty year old Daniel Chester French heard of the Minute Man legacy, he made a small model of a Minute Man and presented it to the Selectmen for their consideration. They were in doubt for some time, however, as to whether they should risk their money with an unknown sculptor, but French offered to make a full sized model and to be paid only when it was completed. He set up a small studio in Boston and began working on the model. For the legs of the Minute Man he used those of an actor of a Boston stage. For the face he took one of Concord's leading citizens Mr. Samuel Hoar. He used an actual revolutionary power horn and uniform from a museum to clothe the model. Every detail was carried out to perfection.

The day of dedication, April 19, 1875, was the greatest day in the history of Concord. President Grant and many members of his cabinet were present, along with the Governors of many states. The Harvard faculty marched headed by its President, Mr. Eliot. The marine band played in the presence of 60,000 people who gathered for the ceremony. A dedicatory speech was made by Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Thus we have a few facts on the background of the Minute Man that is stamped on billions of war savings stamps today.

We have presented this program today to commemorate our present Minute Men, who are giving up their lives for their country, as well as for the Minute Men who gave up their lives in the past to make America the land of the free and the home of the brave.

We have had other periods when the dark clouds of war overshadowed our great and glorious country. We in America hate to carry the thoughts of war in our minds, and do the very best we can to evade all possibilities of war. There are times, however, when we are compelled to set aside our standards to preserve what our country stands for. Such is the situation that we are facing today.

Without doubt we have a man-sized job on our hands and it is up to all of us to pitch in and get this mess cleaned up. Not all of us can be picked to do the actual fighting but all of us can do a great deal to bring on final victory by buying all the War Savings Stamps and Bonds that we are possibly able to purchase. By so doing we can be well assured that our "Minute Men" will have plenty of the essential materials necessary to obtain peace for America.

Clarence G. Morin

April 16, 1943 heralded one of the greatest events of the school year 1942-43 namely, the presentation of the Minute Man Flag to the school.

This flag represents 93% purchasing power for war bonds and stamps out of the entire Grammar and High Schools, during the month of March and throughout the remainder of the school year.

The presentation was given a fitting program, patriotically arranged under the auspices of the Junior Commercial Class which was enjoyed by the Priests, Sisters and students of St. Mary's High School.

The program opened with the presentation of the Minute Man Flag, by Clarence Morin. Patriotic selections were given by William Seaver, Cosmo Delano, Francis McNamara and Catherine Clement. Jean Letourneau favored the assembly with a solo "God Bless America." Elmira Chapdelaine gave a piano selection, "Evening Star." John Murphy of the Freshman Class took the house with his impromptu rendition of "Brazil." A sextet composed of Norma St. George, June Malloy, Veronica Sullivan, Mary Sullivan, Eileen Hilferty and Frances Flaherty rendered appropriate songs.

Corporal Edward Beyer, a graduate of St. Mary's, sent word that he could not be present on this occasion but would come later. This promise he fulfilled about a week after, bringing his jeep to the very door of the school. He delighted the students with his talk on army life and caused a lot of merriment when he dressed "Bubber" Lynch in the full army regalia.

At the close of the program, the Minute Man Flag was put on display, and also an immense American Flag which was given by the Alumni Association in honor of the occasion.

Now both flags are waving over St. Mary's School grounds as emblems of the undying loyalty of the students to our country.

Athletic Director

Seldom does a school have the good fortune to obtain a priest who is not only a jack but a master of all trades. Nevertheless, such good fortune has been with St. Mary's for the past two years in the presence of Father Delehanty, an able debating coach and zealous athletic director. These two positions have warranted him, not only some degree of prominence in diocesan circles, but moreover a warm and esteemed spot in the hearts of each of us. His constant optimism in the face of overwhelming odds has been a source of continued inspiration to the athletic teams. His zealous efforts make him deserving of every honor which we, in our humble way, are capable of bestowing. This year he succeeded in restoring our basketball team to the Catholic League. His unfailing encouragement was likewise a deciding factor in the team's success in winning the first leg on the second Alzerini Trophy this year. For these and his other endeavors, we wish to offer this, our final "Thank you" as students of St. Mary's.

COACH

With the coming of the 1941 sports season, the athletic teams here at St. Mary's found themselves under the tutelage of one of the town's most prominent athletes, Joe Hickey. Tho' this was his first attempt at high school coaching, his abilities as an athletic coach were not long in revealing themselves. We are all familiar with his many outstanding performances upon the gridiron, diamond and basketball court when he himself was a student and athlete here at St. Mary's. Now that he has returned to the Alma Mater in a slightly different capacity we of the student body not only feel secure in the knowledge that our teams are under his capable guidance but we are also instilled with a certain sense of pride due to the fact that a former athlete of the school was able to return and fill so favorable the position of coach. His efforts assisted in the first Alzerini Trophy falling into our permanent possession; this year, he and the basketball team succeeded in winning the first "leg" on the second Alzerini Trophy. For his untiring endeavors we express our sincere gratitude, and wish for him every success in the future.

THE BASKETBALL TEAM

CHEER LEADERS

THE TEAM

The Basketball Season for St. Mary's for the year 1942-1943 was brought to a triumphant close when by a close margin, we defeated Milford High, our top rivals, for the possession of the first leg on the new Alzerini trophy.

The team this year was captained by William "Brother" Collins, '43, who through frequent illness, was unable to make the grade as top scorer. This honor went to "Dickie" Phillips, with Collins as second. Nevertheless, he was our Number 1 man, and with the assistance of his team-mates "Dickie" Phillips, '43, "Red" VonFlatern, '43, "Chick" Sayles '44, and "Raë" Edwards, '45, played good ball, though on the losing side.

Bad luck seemed to pursue the team from the opening game with Assumption High of Worcester on January thirteenth to its closing game with St. Peter's High also of Worcester on March eighth.

Out of twelve games played, in only two, did we top the score. This excluded Milford High, with whom we played three games, winning two.

Next year's Basketball team will be minus the three Seniors, Phillips, Collins and Von Flatern. Nevertheless, Fr. Delehanty, Athletic Director, has succeeded in so arousing enthusiasm among the Grammar School boys, that a splendid team called the "Peewees" has evolved which bids fair to be a Champion.

The Class of 1943 extends its best wishes to that of 1944, that it may continue to hold the Alzerini Trophy and the championship of the Town.

CHEER LEADERS

To arouse enthusiasm and to inspire the fainting hearts of weary athletes were cheer leaders inaugurated at St. Mary's in 1940 by the Rev. Father Sullivan. Since then, the girls of St. Mary's, with their usual energetic spirit have lead the rooters and the boosters of our various teams in song and cheers.

This year's squad consisted of Lucille Newcombe, Irene Rykoski, Lorraine Leheney, Jean Birmingham, Rose Ann DiAntonio and Helen Moynihan. Although Football and Baseball were dropped from this year's schedule the Basketball games furnished ample opportunity to express their vocal zeal. With the student body co-operating, they cheered the Basketball Team to success and possession of the first leg on the new Alzerini Trophy, through three championship games with our rivals, Milford High.

A new corps of Cheer Leaders will be recruited to take over for next year since the present squad is in the graduating class. May their cheers for the Blue and White ring loud and long!

ST. MARY'S IN THE CATHOLIC LEAGUE

Jan. 13. St. Mary's opened its basketball season by journeying to Worcester to be defeated by Assumption High 36-20. High scorer for St. Mary's was Collins with 9 points. This was only the first game of the season and our boys were just warming up.

Jan. 15. In a game packed full of excitement, St. Mary's was again defeated. St. John's defeated us by a score of 33-20. Dickie Phillips led our home team with 7 points.

Jan. 25. Again St. Mary's faced defeat. This time the victor was St. Peter's. The score-45-26. Phillips again took honors with eighteen points.

Jan. 27. St. Mary's of Worcester defeated our team 40-24. The odds seemed against us, as this was our fourth defeat of the season. Highest score was again attained by Phillips with nine points, but Collins was right behind him with eight.

Feb. 1. St. Mary's of Worcester again defeated us 34-30. The game was close all the way, but finally Worcester nosed us out again. Collins and VonFlatern led our boys with 14 and 11 points respectively.

Feb. 9. At last! St. Mary's won its first Massachusetts Catholic League game by defeating Assumption High 35-29. It was in this game that "Red" VonFlatern and "Chick" Sayles pulled a trick out of the bag that led the boys to victory. High scorers were Bill Collins with 12 points and Sayles with 11 points.

Feb. 12. Northbridge High defeated our boys 44-26. Three of our star players were taken out because of fouls and this was an advantage to Northbridge High. Phillips and Sayles led as high scorers, having 5 and 4 points each.

Feb. 19. St. Mary's defeated St. Bernard's 37-27 in one of the most thrilling games of the season. Phillips led the team to victory with 19 points.

ST. MARY'S IN THE CATHOLIC LEAGUE

Feb. 24. St. Mary's won another League game by defeating St. Louis High 45-34. Phillips set the highest individual scoring mark by making 22 points during the game. This made our third League victory.

March 1. St. Louis tied the score by defeating us 49-32. The game was close all the way, but finally St. Louis nosed us out. Again Phillips led the team with 13 points.

March 5. St. John's defeated St. Mary's 52-40. Until the last quarter the score was about the same but near the end St. John's came forth with an unsuspected amount of energy and nosed way out to take the game from us. Collins tallied 18 points to lead the team.

March 8. St. Peter's High defeated us 42-27. This was the last League game of the season and we hated to see our boys defeated. They were in there fighting and Collins again led the team with 10 points.

TOWN CHAMPIONS

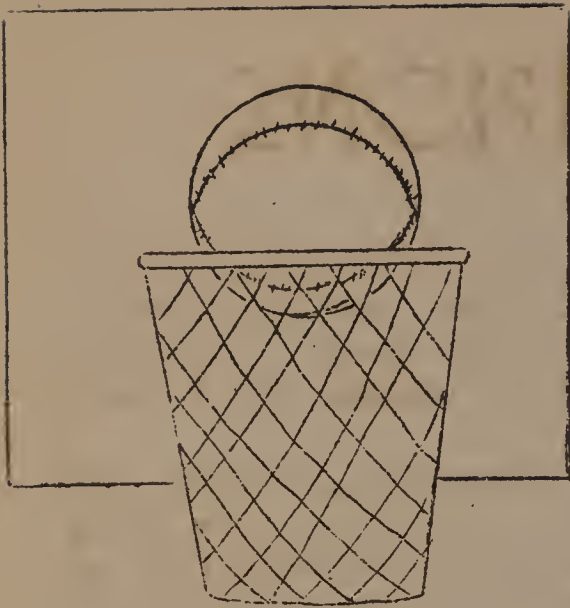

The opening game of the season, with our principal rival, Milford High, was staged in the Lynch Auditorium on the evening of February fifth. With the hall jammed with over a thousand rabid basketball fans, the nip-and-tuck battle ended in a 28-22 score with St. Mary's in the lead.

The team started in with a vigorous offensive, which sent the ball shuttling back and forth between the baskets, the Blue and White making every basket count. This perfect handling of the ball, especially from the floor by Captain Bill Collins who scored 13 out of the 28 points, gave St. Mary's its winning margin. Milford High was dazzled by the rapid-fire of baskets and St. Mary's had the game salted away carefully before they woke up to the fact that the fourth quarter was almost over. Although St. Mary's had not won a game and Milford High had won three, the Blue and White took advantage of the numerous throws and passes to chalk up their first victory for possession of the new Alzerini Trophy.

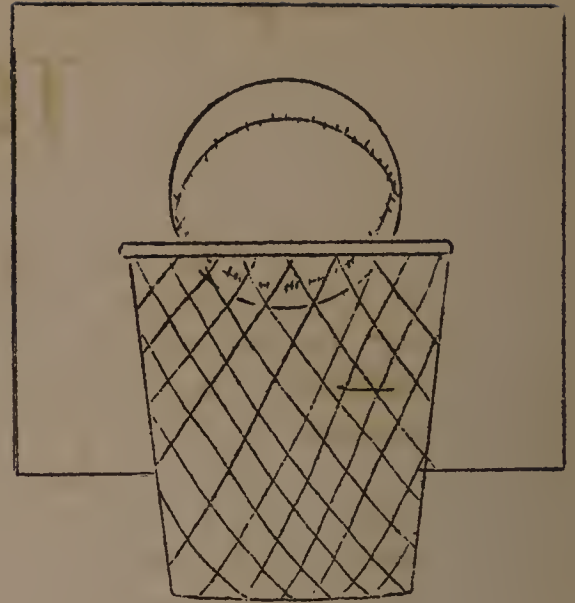

The second Championship game was played on February twenty-sixth. This game was packed with thrills ending in a three minute overtime, which gave Milford High the advantage and a score, same as the first game with winners reversed. This game topped the first one for thrills - the spectators were actually as limp as the players by the time the final whistle blew. The game was exceedingly hard played and numerous fouls were called. St. Mary's benefited by the inability of Milford High to take advantage of their foul shots, losing 9 out of 11 tries. The guarding of Carey and Porzio over Collins, prevented St. Mary's Captain from getting his usual number of good shots from the floor. We were also handicapped by personal fouls. The overtime period gave Milford the three baskets which topped the score and ended the game in their favor.

The third game again packed the Lynch Auditorium on the night of March eleventh, another overtime! Sweet revenge! St. Mary's got off to a good start. At the end of the first quarter we were leading 11-7. By the fourth period, everybody's nerves were on the ragged edge. The boys on both teams were giving their all and what a game for those who were lucky enough to get inside the hall. Collins and Phillips were top scorers, but it was Ray Edwards who evened the score to tie the game. In the overtime period that followed, St. Mary's shot into the lead with Bill Collins placing two baskets just seconds before the final whistle.

The team loses three Seniors in Collins, Phillips and Von Flatern. Yet, looking at the record, St. Mary's has had eight triumphs over Milford High in nine championship contests. The 1942 basketball team retired the first Alzerini Trophy by winning the series in 1940, 1941 and 1942. The Fighting Saints staged a wonderful comeback in their third game this year. This is the courageous spirit that carries a fighting St. Mary's team over the goal line to victory.

PEE - WEES

"The hope of the harvest is in the seed." If we accept this proverb as applying to basketball, the Pee-Wees will be the best team Milford or perhaps Massachusetts has ever seen.

In the Sumner Street part of the school yard, Father Delchanty has had erected two baskets for the use of the boys and girls in the high and grammar school. It is the most popular spot in the vicinity and attracts athletes of all sizes.

The best of these seedling teams is composed of boys from the sixth and seventh grades. They have won the approval of many of the boys playing on the high school teams and have put on some fast games. The Pee-Wees, as they call themselves, have also played some inside games at the John C. Lynch Auditorium.

Father Delehanty and Coach Hickey have put in some strenuous hours in training the team with the idea that St. Mary's will reap the reward of their efforts when the youngsters get into High School.

The line-up of the Pee-Wees is as follows:

Gerald Barlow
John Early
Donald Sayles
(Captain)

Paul McCormack
Konnect Gould
Glen Morse

Thomas Flanigan
George Kozak
John Wojnowski

Grades One and Two, taking the names of Tinies and Giants, have the distinction of being the youngest team on the floor. They played a game in April which rivalled the Boston College and Holy Cross football game for cheering and yelling. Father Delehanty called the game to a close with a tied score before any bones were broken.

Class History

A new school year blossomed forth at the beginning of September 1942. The Junior Class was separated into two divisions; those who preferred a business course, the Junior Commercial, placed themselves under the direction of Sister Immaculata as their home room teacher. The other class known as the Junior Classical happily welcomed Sister Imelda as their home room teacher.

On the first day of school as we eagerly took in our new surroundings, we were glad to see a fine, new boy hailing from Millville and known by the name of Joseph McKearnan. His advent livened up our interest for it isn't every day that a new male student comes to town. Glancing to the other side of the room, we found we had another classmate to be added to our little group. She is by name, Doris Malley from Uxbridge.

Two classmates have come to take the place of six who have left us, namely, Walter Keefe, Walter Converse, Leo Curran, Arthur Moran, Gerald McKearnan and Michael DeMatteis. At present there are 21 girls and 12 boys in the Junior Classical while the Junior Commercial has only 15 girls and 3 boys.

In November, we had a class meeting for the purpose of selecting class officers. After nominations, discussions, deliberations and final voting, our class officers are as follows: President, Francis McNamara; Vice-President, Robert Howland; Secretary, Helen Charge; Treasurer, Margaret Rossetti.

Debates took a great deal of attention from the student body. Our Junior Class was represented by Richard Gallagher and Catherine Clement as two of the debaters on the Affirmative Team which scored a final victory. Francis McNamara lent a helping hand as an alternate on the forceful Negative Team which fought hard to win the silver cup for St. Mary's High School after a twelve year fight for that decisive glory. The school bows in appreciation to these debaters who deserve unquestionable and unlimited praise.

The Junior Commercial welcomed another classmate, Mary Morgan. A few weeks later, following Mary's arrival, Henry Fitzpatrick, arriving from Hopkinton, increased the number of boys from two to three in the Commercial Class.

Class History

Then came the Basketball season. One of the five wonders is a member of the Junior Class--Albert Sayles, who plays left guard on the team of whom the Junior Class is proud, for he did much to help win a leg on the Alzerini Cup by defeating our old enemy in sports---Milford High School.

The semi-finals of the oratoricals came to a close on March 29th. Those chosen to participate in the finals were:

Francis McNamara
Joseph McKearnan
Catherine Clement
Jeannette Smith
Jean McCormack
Barbara Summers

Richard Gallagher
Robert Donavan
Helen Charge
Helen Kittredge
Assumpta Norcia
Mary Kennedy

So this is our class history -- the history of a class which will never grow tired working for the success of their beloved school, for the heart of each and every Junior is warmly and closely connected with the throbbing heart of St. Mary's High School.

Many friends have come
As many have gone
But the true friends we've won
In our hearts linger long.

We give thanks to our teachers
Who have always been our guides,
Each and all beloved creatures
By their example we'll abide.

We shall never forget our Pastor
Or his priests, God holds so dear
We will pray for them to our Master
Whose presence is always near.

Yes, we've shed tears
And, we've had fun
But in our eleven years
We've remained united as one.

Class History

On September the ninth, 1942, the curtain rose on our second year in St. Mary's High School. Acquainting ourselves with our new teachers and subjects, a not unpleasant task, kept us out of mischief for a while.

The Sophomores, as a class, have been conspicuous in all the social activities of the year. Although few dances were held, the Sophomores were well represented on these occasions. Needless to say, most of our classmates who attended were amateurs in the art of dancing, but lack of skill did not prevent our having a good time. We are grateful to the Seniors who sponsored these dances.

In November, the Sophomores participated in the annual oratorical contests. This brought to light a wealth of material for the debates which followed later in the year. The winners were:

Edward Bagley	Elizabeth Casey
Rae Edwards	Catherine Flaherty
Joseph Gallagher	Esther Hannigan
Avis Hubbard	Mary Keenan
Eleanor Mann	Elizabeth Melanson
John Moran	Raymond Morin
Phyllis Peters	John Rice
Elizabeth Rooney	Cecelia Summers
Thomas Fitzgerald

Avis Hubbard, because of the ability shown in the oratoricals, was chosen to participate in the debates. We need not add that the team came through victoriously, and as a result, St. Mary's High School has permanent possession of the Bishop O'Leary Trophy. We are sure that Avis' contribution to the team helped to bring the cup home. With her experience, she promises to be a valuable asset to the SMA team for the next two years.

The highlight of the Sophomore Class in Basketball this year was Rae Edwards, an up-and-coming star, who saved the last St. Mary's - Milford High game by tying it in the last four seconds. He was a big addition to the first team, and since he has two more years to go, we hope to see a great deal more of him. Speaking of Basketball, we can't in all justice, let the second team go without mention, for they are the stars of tomorrow. On this team, doing very creditable work we have:

Before we end this chronicle, it is only just to give glory where glory is due and the Sophomore Classes are entitled to some consideration for their record in buying War Bonds and Stamps. Altogether, in the last few months, we have collected about $450 in Stamps, and $225 in War Bonds. Besides this, many Sophomores are writing to their brothers, fathers, and sisters in the Service, and sending Sunday Visitors and the School Bulletin to them.

A second and more eventful year has terminated, and as we bid farewell to our Sophomore days, the only regret is that the Seniors will not be present to share in our remaining school years of enjoyment.

T O O U R B O Y S

Though you leave us now to go to war
Our country to defend,
We'll wait for you, and pray for you,
'Till this strife is at an end.

We won't forget the things you do,
Long letters we will write,
We know you won't give up at all
'Till the star of Peace is bright.

We'll buy War Bonds and Stamps to give
You fighting boys a chance.
We'll save our dough to help you throw
Herr Hitler's Nazis out of France.

Then 'till you return to S. M. A.
Our prayers and love we give,
You'll do your best, -we know that now,
That our country in peace may live.

Class History

Education to us, the Class of '46, is gleaming from men, books, laboratories, fields and forest. It is learning, promptness and thoughtfulness, kindness, helpfulness and every form of purity; it is mastering of mind and spirit, thought and word; it is knowing that nothing but service brings worthy living, that selfishness means sin and that courage lies in being right.

For us then, it will be the implanting of good habits, the acquirement of efficiency and the development of twenty-four karat character.

The New Schedule frightened us beyond measure, but the enthusiasm and energy we put into all subjects helped us to master them easily.

The dignified Freshmen from suburban towns entered all the activities, even Oratoricals, with pronounced success. From our number, the following were selected to enter the finals:

Ann Casey
Camillia Cassali
Jean Dugan
John Kennelly
Roger Letourneau
Edith Letourneau
John Murphy
Mary O'Neil
Agnes Tobey

Dorothy Casey
Elia Dell'Orco
Jeanne Fitzpatrick
Louis Lancisi
Jeanne Letourneau
Mary Luby
Philip Neilon
Joseph Sawyer
Bernard Young

We also had a Debate in the School Auditorium, on March 15, 1943. The question was: "Resolved that the United States Join a Federal Union of Nations With World Democracies After This War." The line-up follows:

NEGATIVE

Philip Neilon
Elia Dell'Orco
Bernard Young

AFFIRMATIVE

Louis Lancisi
Mary Luby
Jeanne Letourneau

ALTERNATE

Mary O'Neil

ALTERNATE

Roger Letourneau

The Affirmative Team won a two to one decision.

The year has quickly flown by and happily we look forward to three more years at St. Mary's, ever building for our goal-----Graduation in 1946.

Class History

Sometime in June in the year of 1947, a class of approximately sixty-five hope to be graduated from St. Mary's High School but until that far distant date, we are content to be known as the Junior High School students. According to custom, we had the honor of passing this last year of our grammar school in the high school building.

Since our class is quite large, it was necessary to divide it, one class under Sister Mary Philip and the other under Sister John Aloysius. Though divided, we all have one ambition "To do something great for St. Mary's."

We participate in practically every enterprise undertaken by the High School pupils and rate very high in the purchase of War Stamps and Bonds.

During the month of April, we held a classroom debate. The question was: "Resolved: That Firemen Play a More Important Part in the Protection of a Community than Policemen."

The following is the line up:

AFFIRMATIVE
Eleanor Manion
Marie Maher
Raymond Donovan
ALTERNATE
Richard Griffin

NEGATIVE
Edward Nealon
Winifred Burns
Joseph Fitzpatrick
ALTERNATE
William Frieswick

A few years ago, Father Donahue established the La-Salle Circle. Any pupil who attains a mark of 85% in five subjects is admitted to membership in the circle. The following received this honor during 1942-1943:

Marie Maher
Eleanor Manion
Raymond Donovan
Margaret Kelly
Doris Viens
Edward Nealon
John Lees

Wanda Dapkiewicz
Winifred Burns
Kathleen Bird
Mary Casali
Robert Tondreau
Theresa Lucier
Ella Lerck

The school year is almost over and happy vacation days are drawing near. There is just one more worry and that is the dreaded final examinations. When they have become ancient history we shall be ready for a glorious summer, returning in September as Freshmen.

LA SALLE CIRCLE

The great saint of the seventeenth century who is the patron of the Honor Circle of the Junior High School, was born at Rheims, France on the fifteenth of May. Ordained in 1678, his great work was the establishment of the Institute of the Brothers of the Christian Schools. The purpose of the foundation was to give the youth of the land a thorough Christian education. This could be accomplished only by a religious order whose Model was the first great Teacher, Jesus Christ. His saintly life closed in the year 1719. He was canonized in 1900. St. John realized in full the words of St. John the Evangelist. "This is eternal life, that they may know Thee the only true God and Jesus Christ Whom Thou hast sent."

When the bombing of Pearl Harbor on that fateful Dec. 7, 1941, sounded the tocsin of war, Americans put aside the hope of peace which they had been vainly cherishing.

Previous to this date Americans were divided in their loyalty to our President and to his policies. Freely they condemned what they called his "war shopping" methods, and bitterly they criticized his new deal policies. Hitler and Hirohito might well hope to capitalize this dissension but if they did have any such delusions they forgot to reckon with the true American spirit. Once Japan had plunged the knife into our back, these fermenting sores were healed and Americans unanimously supported the President's declaration of war.

Wholesale regimentation of men for the various branches of the army and navy became immediately effective. All the resources of the nations were tapped and the stupendous war machine of the world was set in motion to a speed which has surpassed anything in history.

From all parts of the country, all colors, creeds and nationalities have answered the call. Boys and girls from our own St. Mary's heard it and they left home and friends to give all, even their lives, that after victory we might have a just peace and enjoy the rights guaranteed by our Constitution.

St. Mary's Alumni dates back to 1886 when the charter class, consisting of four young ladies, received their diplomas. The school was in charge of the Sisters of Notre Dame and continued under their supervision until the graduation of 1904.

In 1909, the Sisters of St. Joseph took over the school and from that date on both boys and girls were instructed within the walls of our Alma Mater. The Class of 1943 numbers seventy-four showing that there is an ever increasing interest in Catholic Education.

We, the members of St. Mary's Alumni Association, welcome this new class to our fold. We have followed with interest their career of achievement in every field and we are proud of their success.

In recognition of the creditable work of the Class and especially of this excellent publication, The Blue Mantle, St. Mary's Alumni Association dedicates this page to the Class of 1943 with the prayer that they may carry forward with their usual enthusiasm the work of our Alma Mater.

ST. MARY'S HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Geraldine Fleming, President

Alumni Notes

The year 1942-1943 began very auspiciously on a pleasant June evening at the Annual Banquet, which initiated the graduating class with membership among the Alumni.

The toastmaster upon this occasion was Charles Smith who presented the speaker of the evening, a former graduate, William J. Read, S. J. Mr. Read's talk was extremely timely. He discussed the war and some of its probable effects on our social and economic systems.

At the business meeting which followed the banquet the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. Miss Geraldine Fleming was elected President; George Holland Vice-President; Ann Shaughnessy Secretary and Rev. Thomas P. Kelly, Treasurer.

Meetings were held the second Tuesday of every month. In April, the Alumni very appropriately presented St. Mary's School with a beautiful new American flag.

The annual activities were curtailed during the year on account of the war. Many of the Alumnus have joined the ranks of the men in service during the past year. For them a Mass was offered Sunday May 9th at which the Alumni, augmented by the Senior Class, received Holy Communion in a body.

Plans are already being made for the annual Banquet. This year it is hoped that the Letter Men among the Seniors will be given sweaters although the athletic program was limited this year to Basketball.

Thanks are due to the loyal members of the Alumni who have labored during this past year to make the Association meetings a success. We trust that next year will see increased activity on the part of those who are guarding the Home Front, to make it a success.

Geraldine Fleming

A PAGE FROM THE PAST

A page taken from the Minutes of the first meeting of St. Mary's Alumni Association.

In response to an announcement from the pulpit of St. Mary's Church, by Rev. Father McGrath, Sunday, December 24, 1911, a meeting of the graduates of St. Mary's Parochial School was called for the purpose of forming an Alumni Association.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. Patrick F. Doyle, curate at St. Mary's Church. There were present at this first meeting about fifty graduates, representing nearly all of the classes from 1886 (the first class to graduate-the school then being in charge of the Sisters of Notre Dame) to 1911 (the last class-the schools now being in charge of the Sisters of St. Joseph.)

It was voted to elect a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, Ways and Means Committee and a Committee on Constitution and By Laws.

Voting was held by ballot and resulted as follows:

President	James Leo Clancy '10
Vice-President	Mrs. Bridget (McLoughlin) Edwards '10
Secretary	Anna S. Morgan '86
Treasurer	Isabelle V. McLoughlin '98

Committee on Ways and Means:

William Colleary '09	Mary Lynch '09
Kathryn C. Burke '95	Hannah Coakley '96
Charles Matthews '10

It was voted to hold a social in the near future, the date to be decided upon at a later meeting of the officers and committees. It was also decided to assess each member $1.00 per year, payable at or before the January meeting.

AN APPRECIATION

7th (1937-1st.) NO 1942

This is the sixth issue of St. Mary's High School Blue Mantle and we offer it to our friends with a feeling of just pride and of satisfaction for we, the class of '43, feel that glory should be given where glory is due. We, therefore, extend in the name of the faculty and of the student body, particularly the Senior Class, our sincere thanks to the co-editors, Bernice Marie Wojnowski and William Francis Murphy, for the hours of tireless labor they have put into this book. Long after the doors have closed on the last student leaving the famous Detention Room, the click of the typewriter and the whirr of the mimeograph may be heard as the two work together to produce a book worthy of its predecessors. They have not confined their work to the editing of material only but have entered into the manual labor as well. In fact, there is not a detail which they have neglected. Day after day and night after night, long after the glamour of editorship has waned, they have sweat ink and wallowed in shellac and all kinds of sticky messy things that go into the production of this lovely Blue Mantle.

Unstinted praise and generous thanks they deserve and we give it to them sincerely. We realize that without their unselfish labor we could not have had a Blue Mantle. Therefore, to the co-editors, Bernice and William, we give a lion's share of the praise, glory and gratitude.
